

School Board Will Sell High Street Building At Public Sale On October 20

The Gettysburg School Board, meeting Monday night in the office of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, set Thursday, October 20, at 2 p.m. as the time for public sale of the 97-year-old High St. School building.

The date was set after representatives of the borough council said a month "should be sufficient time for council to decide what it wants to do about possible purchase of the school," and after the councilmen had agreed, "in our own private opinion," that public sale of the old school house would be the "fairest" method of disposing of it.

All seven members of the school board were present as well as the council committee and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association, and Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church.

Reads Legal Opinion
School Board President Ray J. Kitzmiller opened the meeting by asking "What does council wish concerning the school?" James W. Shenk, spokesman for the council committee, said, "About all you propose to do is dispose of the school?"

Kitzmiller then had School Board Secretary Robert Dearborn read a letter from the board's solicitors, the law firm of Swope, Brown and Swope, stating that the school could be sold at public sale, by sealed bids, or at private sale with court approval.

Shenk asked, "Does the school board have any idea what it can get for High St. School? Some councilmen feel it can be bought for nothing at all and others feel that the price will be very high."

Value Not Known
Members of the school board indicated that they also had no idea of how much the school property will bring.

It was said that the building has a good heating plant but may need a new roof, and that partitions within the building are all of light lath and might be torn out without any difficulty, or danger.

Shenk, M. P. Hartzell and Robert said "We cannot say what council will do or would want to do with the school building. We have no directive. A survey has been made on parking, but we do not have the figures here. There have been a number of suggestions concerning possible use of the school building, but they have been general and we have nothing specific. Council is interested, but it has problems of maintenance and reconstruction to consider, and no decisions have been reached."

Charles B. Bender, representing the Chamber of Commerce, declared "the town needs the area for parking and for a town building. Parking is particularly important. The school property is only a short distance from the center of town. Our problem of parking grows steadily worse. If this slips out of the town's hands, where will we ever get another spot so close to the center of town?" He urged that a private sale should be arranged, "then we can be sure that the town will get the school."

Favor Public Sale
Most present, however, seemed agreed a public sale was the "fair" (Continued On Page 4)

Two U. S. Women Who Worked In Leper Colony Are Freed By Reds

HONG KONG (P)—The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

The women were Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a native of Tennessee, and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34, of Cicero, Ill. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian. Miss Middleton, a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

Of the 10 Americans the Communists announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dilmas T. Kanady, a cotton dealer from Houston, Tex., remained to come across.

Held 31 Others
The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that machinery had been set up to provide the "expedited" release of 19 others under detention. None of those has arrived yet in the free world.

JUDGE SHEELY URGES DEMS TO "GET OUT VOTE"

Speeches by candidates for county offices highlighted the meeting of the Women's Democratic Club of Adams County Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall. Among those introduced were: president judge of the Adams-Pulton courts, Hon. W. C. Sheely, candidate for re-election; Earl Guise, candidate for associate judge; Edward Sneeringer, candidate for county commissioner; and R. L. Pittenturf, candidate for register and recorder.

Judge Sheely called on club members to "get out the vote." He said, "The important thing in this campaign is that our candidates are qualified for the offices they seek. This year is important for us. Electing candidates to office is like employing office holders for the next few years. These jobs mean something to each and every one of us. You never know when you will come in contact with these people for help."

Seels No Other Post
Judge Sheely then outlined the necessary qualifications for the various offices and declared that he was "not interested in any judicial appointment even if one were offered me."

Mrs. S. C. Ballard presided at the meeting which 39 members and five guests attended. She introduced eight new members and the group heard a letter of thanks from the Warner Hospital for a $50 donation to the building fund.

Mrs. Betty Fissel won the quilt donated to the club by Mrs. Anna Slaybaugh. Collections of $105.10 were realized from the quilt.

Girl Scouts Plan Weekend Camp Trip

Plans for a weekend camping trip October 1 and 2 at the Adams County Girl Scout campsite, near Fairfield, were outlined Monday evening by Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 4. The camp will begin at 11 a.m. on October 1 and close at 3 p.m. on October 2.

Members of the troop, accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Harold Culp, bicycled over a portion of the Battlefield and stopped for their meeting at Spangler's Spring.

Plans were made to attend the dedication of the County Girl Scout Council campsite Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hewitson is assistant leader of the troop.

Untidy Blonde Steals Baby From San Francisco Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Nearly 300 policemen searched house by house through a 66-block area today for a doctor's 3-day-old son who was kidnapped from St. Zon Hospital.

The child, Robert J. Marcus, was the healthy 6-pound, 6½-ounce son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus of suburban Daly City.

He was taken from the glass-enclosed nursery yesterday afternoon, presumably by an untidy blonde who had been questioned by Leticia Clement, 21, a student nurse.

Eleanor Lorenz, a nursing supervisor, saw a blonde woman walking from the hospital shortly after midnight with a baby.

M. T. Brown Funeral Services Held Today

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Manion T. Brown, 82, who died at his home Taneytown R. 2, on Sunday morning after a lengthy illness. Rev. Stanley Jennings, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, officiated. Interment in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were Norman Hess, William Amoss, John Duple, Walter Hetterbrich, Benjamin Cutsall and Wilbur Hess. Funeral arrangements in charge of C. O. Fuss Funeral Home, Taneytown.

SAYS MICROBES ARE ENEMY AND FRIEND OF MAN

Microbes, invisible to the human eye, are "man's greatest enemy and greatest friend," Dr. M. A. Farrell, associate dean of the college of agriculture at Pennsylvania State University, told the local Rotary club Monday evening at its dinner-meeting in the YWCA.

Dr. Farrell, who formerly headed the department of bacteriology at the university, and now heads the Penn State Agricultural Experimental station work, described the growth of agriculture and of Pennsylvania State University in the last century. He said, "The problem of surpluses will not plague us for more than five more years, and possibly not that long. We have 2,000,000 more mouths to feed each year and that is going to wipe out the farm products surplus."

Pennsylvania, he said, ranks 14th in agriculture in the U.S. with cash income of its farmers totalling $850,000,000 a year.

Plague Fatal To Millions
"Bubonic plague is caused by microbes, which affect rats, fleas bite the rats and carry the plague to humans. In the great plague of the 14th century, 26,000,000 people, one-fourth of the world's population at that time, died as a result of the disease," Dr. Farrell said.

"The destruction of the Roman Empire might be credited more to the microbes than to anything else. From 54 B.C. to 600 A.D. the empire suffered at least eight terrible epidemics. During the time of Justinian there were 10,000 deaths daily in Rome. In the year 100 smallpox caused 2,000 deaths daily in Rome."

BAND BOOSTER GROUPS NAMED

Standing committee chairmen and members for the year were named by the Band Boosters Club of Gettysburg High School at a meeting Monday evening in the new band room at the senior high school with Mrs. Harry Baker, president, presiding. Twenty-three members attended.

The following committee chairmen were announced: ways and means, co-chairmen, Mrs. Carl Prosser and Mrs. Paul Ketterman; social, co-chairmen, Mrs. Howard Ellidge and Mrs. Morris Steinhour; uniform and equipment, Mrs. Edward J. Nowicki; engagements, William Weaver; chapersons, Donald Scott; awards and recognition, Edward J. Nowicki; band director; publicity, co-chairmen, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler and Hugh McIlhenry.

The "prom-peanut" week was scheduled for the week of October 17 when band members will again sell peanuts. It was decided to sponsor the participation of the senior high band in the Halloween parade on October 27 at Hanover.

After lengthy discussion of ways to provide all junior high band members with uniforms, the uniform and equipment committee was appointed to investigate the problem and report at the next meeting.

The Adams County Selective Service Board today received a call for 11 men for pre-induction examination and three for induction into the armed forces. All will report October 11.

Will Not Prosecute

"We will not prosecute him for leaving our son dead," the father whose dreams of having a fine strong son are shattered.

"Please, please return him to good health!"

The doctor told newsmen, "My wife and I are not vindictive. We will prosecute if our baby is returned to us unharmed."

"And we are certainly poor candidates for ransom."

"The woman is just hungry for a child."

The hospital offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the baby's recovery.

Mrs. Marcus, 29, was put under sedatives. Her husband is 34. They have two other children, Richard, 3, and Susan, 2.

County Court Hears Case On Estate Shares

An executor of an estate can "gamble only for the benefit of the heirs. If he loses, he is surcharged," attorneys noted Monday afternoon in arguments before the Adams County Court on the supplemental report of the auditor in the estate of Helen M. McKinley, late of New Oxford.

The argument concerned disposition of the estate in the form of securities to one of the heirs and in cash to others. The stocks gained in value and other heirs are arguing that the gain should have been divided. The court asked whether, if the value of the stocks had declined, there would have been any desire to recompense the heir that "lost" in the transaction.

After hearing the arguments of a number of attorneys, the court accepted their briefs and will hand down an opinion at a later date.

No Oral Arguments
No oral arguments were presented in the appeal on the rubbish-dumping violation charge against J. C. Aldridge, Hanover R. 5. Briefs were handed up on the matter in which Aldridge is claiming the dumping ordinance, which he allegedly violated, is unconstitutional.

Briefs were handed up on arguments in the speeding charge against Melvin G. Miller, Bislerville R. 1.

Following a hearing for the support of Ina V. Duncan, Gettysburg R. 1, a program was set up by which some of her ten children will pay a total of $12.50 per week toward their mother's support.

Support Case
The support case against Kenneth L. Becker, East Berlin, was settled on payment of costs.

Following a hearing on a desertion and non-support charge brought by Mrs. Teresa R. Wyatt against her husband, Gordon Wyatt, Abbotstown, the court dismissed the case and gave Wyatt 30 days to pay the costs noting that the matters of which Mrs. Wyatt complained cannot be handled by court order. "In-law" and religious problems were chiefly the complaint of Mrs. Wyatt. The court held that when people of different faith marry it is their problem and not the court's.

MUSSELMAN'S GIVE 5 DRIVERS SAFETY AWARDS

Members of The C. H. Musselman Company's fleet truck force and traffic department and their wives were entertained at a banquet held at the Dutch Cupboard, Saturday evening.

"Safe Driver" awards were presented by Russell S. Mackman, traffic manager, to the following drivers: Herman M. Dehoff, 13 years; Roger H. Wehler, eight years; Earl G. Rank, five years; Thurman W. Wright and Francis U. Thomas Jr., one year each. Norman E. Robinson and Kenneth E. Hartlaub are the remaining two fleet truck drivers.

Additional guests were the following members of the truck maintenance and loading departments: Lloyd E. Miller, Allen E. Kump, James E. Singley, John A. Lumm, and Glenn M. Rider, plant safety director.

During a brief program following the banquet, Allen S. Stauffer, company safety director, spoke briefly on the Musselman fleet truck drivers' safety record in relation to motor-vehicle accidents on a national scale.

The army was authorized to requisition food, shelter and transport for the stricken. Only outside link was the airport radio. Water service was restored, but power, telephone and telegraph facilities were out.

President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines ordered unlimited aid for the city and other cities damaged by Hilda. Teran urged the Mexican Embassy in Washington to take steps to obtain helicopters from Texas offered earlier by Gov. Allan Shivers and the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Ciudad Madero, Altamira and other nearby towns, Teran said, suffered "considerable damage." Food and medicines were especially needed for the thousands housed in schools, public buildings and private homes, he said.

Cole, Thomas Cole, Richard Schultz, Harold Heiges, Donald Peters, John Bowling, Edward Bowling, Harold Culp, Harvey Gastley, Harold Settle, Robert Hartman, Fred Myers and Walter Johnson.

A request has been made that all firemen, other than committee members, attend and assist.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will prepare and serve refreshments for the party.

All proceeds will go to the Apparatus Fund of the company.

Home Battered By Hurricane

This small house along the Neuse River, near New Bern, N. C., takes full force of Hurricane Ione. All its windows are blown out. Waves from the river roll toward the front door. Several houses along the river were damaged.

D. P. McPHERSON WILL SPEAK AT SCOUT CAMPSITE

State Senator Donald P. McPherson Jr. will be the principal speaker at the dedication of the new camp site of the Adams County Girl Scout Council, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Girl Scout officials today reminded all Brownies, Intermediates and Senior Scouts that their families are invited to take part in the exercises at the camp site.

The camp is located south of the Gettysburg-Fairfield Rd., one mile east of Fairfield. Directional signs will be erected on the Fairfield Rd. leading to the camp.

Rev. Edwirth E. Korte, chaplain of Gettysburg College, will give the invocation and there will be group singing led by Mrs. Joseph Baker, president of the Girl Scout Council. R. Thomas Adams, campsite chairman, will also speak. Senior Troop No. 4 will present the flag ceremony, with Marily Culp as announcer, Evelyn Gaston, flag bearer and Louise Collins, Deborah McCullough, Mary Hewetson and Elsie Darrah, color guards.

Campfire Program
Games during the afternoon will be led by the camping committee comprising Mrs. Carol Arter, Mrs. Alton Kessel, Miss Mary Peters, Mrs. John Forry, Mrs. Ellen Hinkle, Mrs. Laverne Hamme, Mrs. T. Rhey Zeigler and Mrs. Robert Ditchburn.

Intermediate Troop 21 led by Mrs. Donald Fair will be in charge of the campfire program at 7 o'clock. Park will be arranged by Laverne Hamme, David Alwine and M. Hardy Nichols.

Each family is asked to bring its own picnic supper for the event. Refreshments will be on sale. The committee in charge includes T. Rhey Zeigler and Gordon Webster. All Scouts and Brownies are asked to wear uniforms. Nurses on duty at the campsite will be Mrs. George Ackerson and Mrs. Arthur Phiel.

The rain date for the event is Sunday, October 2.

FRACTURES ANKLE

Wilbur Martin, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Martin, R. 2, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of his right ankle. He was injured Monday when his foot became caught between the tire and fender of a tractor.

BAILED FOR COURT

Joseph Snyder, 22, Gettysburg R. 4, entered a plea of guilty this morning before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore on a charge of driving after his license was suspended. He posted $500 bail to appear for sentence by the court.

HURRICANE IONE IS SWIRLING OUT TO SEA AFTER KILLING 4 AND CAUSING DAMAGE IN N.C.

NORFOLK, Va., (P)—Hurricane Ione whirled well out to sea on an eastward course today and virtually all remaining threats to the Metropolitan Northeast went with her.

The devastation of the season's ninth tropical storm was visited mainly on North Carolina where five lives were lost and property and crop damage ran well up in the millions. Aside from some more flood-caused crop losses, Virginia which expected a large dose of damage escaped almost unscathed.

Ione, her once 120 mile winds diminished nearly by half, spun uncertainly for several hours off Norfolk early today and then veered out over the open sea.

200 Miles From Norfolk
The 10 a.m. Weather Bureau advisory put Ione's position 200 miles east of Norfolk. There was still a small possibility that the storm would curve to the north and brush Pallbearers were four nephews, Royal Clagett, Wilford Gerbrick, Harry Long and Albert Long, and Ralph Rexroth and Harry Miller. Arrangements in charge of Fuss Funeral Home, Taneytown.

ESSEX PLANT IS VISITED BY LIONS MONDAY

The Inductive Equipment Division of Essex Wire Co. hosted the Gettysburg Lions Club on a tour of the plant following the regular dinner-meeting of the club at The Shetter House Monday evening.

Arranged by Doral Mills, plant manager, and Richard Bruce, assistant plant manager, the tour included the following departments: single winding, multiple winding, material preparation, coil opening and finishing, ignition coil connecting assembly, ignition coil potting assembly, oil-filled ignition coil department, impregnation, quality control and shipping and receiving.

President Earl Ziegler announced at the meeting that the annual Lions door-to-door Broom Sale will take place next Monday evening in Gettysburg. Part of the supply of 650 brooms the Lions will attempt to sell were purchased from the York Blind Center. The remainder was bought locally. The brooms will sell for $1.75. Kenneth Johns is chairman of the committee.

Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, who succeeded Dr. W. E. Tilberg as dean of Gettysburg College, was a guest at the meeting which was attended by 91.

PAYS $5 DAMAGES

Arthur S. Dale, Pinecastle, Fla., paid $5 damages to the borough at 5 o'clock this morning when he attempted to park his truck and trailer on Chambersburg St., near Lincoln Square, and the vehicle broke off a route marker.

Two U. S. Women Who Worked In Leper Colony Are Freed By Reds

HONG KONG (P)—The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

The women were Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a native of Tennile, Ga., and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34, of Cicero, Ill. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian, Miss Middleton a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

Of the 10 Americans the Communists announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dilmus T. Kanady, a cotton dealer from Houston, Tex., remained to come across.

Held 31 Others
The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that machinery had been set up to provide the "expedient" release of 19 others under detention. None of these has arrived yet in the free world.

JUDGE SHEELY URGES DEMS TO "GET OUT VOTE"

Speeches by candidates for county offices highlighted the meeting of the Women's Democratic Club of Adams County Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall. Among those introduced were: president Judge of the Adams-Fulton courts, Hon. W. C. Sheely, candidate for re-election; Earl Guise, candidate for associate judge; Edward Sneringer, candidate for county commissioner, and R. L. Pittenturf, candidate for register and recorder.

Judge Sheely called on club members to "get out the vote." He said, "The important thing in this campaign is that our candidates are qualified for the offices they seek. This year is important for us. Electing candidates to office is like employing office holders for the next few years. These jobs mean something to each and every one of us. You never know when you will come in contact with these people for help."

Seeks No Other P. s.
Judge Sheely then outlined the necessary qualifications for the various offices and declared that he was "not interested in any judicial appointment even if one were offered me."

Mrs. S. C. Ballard presided at the meeting which 39 members and five guests attended. She introduced eight new members and the group heard a letter of thanks from the Warner Hospital for a $50 donation to the building fund.

Mrs. Betty Fissel won the quilt donated to the club by Mrs. Anna Slaybaugh. Collections of $105.10 were realized from the quilt.

Pallbearers were Norman Hess, William Amoss, John Duple, Walter Heltterbrick, Benjamin Cutsall and Wilbur Hess. Funeral arrangements in charge of C. O. Fuss Funeral Home, Taneytown.

SAYS MICROBES ARE ENEMY AND FRIEND OF MAN

Microbes, invisible to the human eye, are "man's greatest enemy and greatest friend," Dr. M. A. Farrell, associate dean of the college of agriculture at Pennsylvania State University, told the local Rotary club Monday evening at its dinner-meeting in the YWCA.

Dr. Farrell, who formerly headed the department of bacteriology at the university, and now heads the Penn State Agricultural Experimental station work, described the growth of agriculture and of Pennsylvania State University in the last century. He said, "The problem of surplus will not plague us for more than five more years, and possibly not that long. We have 2,000,000 more mouths to feed each year and that is going to wipe out the farm products surplus." Pennsylvania, he said, ranks 14th in agriculture in the U.S. with cash income of its farmers totaling $850,000,000 a year.

Plague Fatal To Millions
"Bubonic plague is caused by microbes, which affect rats, fleas bite the rats and carry the plague to humans. In the great plague of the 14th century, 26,000,000 people, one-fourth of the world's population at that time, died as a result of the disease," Dr. Farrell said.

"The destruction of the Roman Empire might be credited more to the microbes than to anything else. From 54 B.C. to 600 A.D. the empire suffered at least eight terrible epidemics. During the time of Justinian there were 10,000 deaths daily in Rome. In the year 100 smallpox caused 2,000 deaths daily in Rome."

Defeat Epidemics
"But with the work of Pasteur and the others we have just about licked most of the bacterial epidemics. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., are pretty well wiped out. We do have a new bunch of virus diseases but maybe in a few years they too will be under control. And I think if someone would be willing to spend a few million or billion on research we could even wipe out the common cold."

"But bacteria are also beneficial. Some fix nitrogen in the soil, and save the farmer several hundred millions of dollars worth of (Continued On Page 2)

Girl Scouts Plan Weekend Camp Trip

Plans for a weekend camping trip October 1 and 2 at the Adams County Girl Scout campsite, near Fairfield, were outlined Monday evening by Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 4. The camp will begin at 11 a.m. on October 1 and close at 3 p.m., October 2.

Members of the troop, accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Harold Culp, bicycled over a portion of the battlefield and stopped for their meeting at Spangler's Spring.

Plans were made to attend the dedication of the County Girl Scout Council campsite Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hewetson is assistant leader of the troop.

Untidy Blonde Steals Baby From San Francisco Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Nearly 300 policemen searched house by house through a 66-block area today for a doctor's 3-day-old son who was kidnapped from Mt. Zion Hospital.

The child, Robert J. Marcus, is the healthy 6-pound, 6½-ounce son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus of suburban Daly City.

He was taken from the glass-enclosed nursery yesterday afternoon, presumably by an untidy blonde who had been questioned by Lettie Clement, 21, a student nurse.

Eleanor Lorenz, a nursing supervisor, saw a blonde woman walking from the hospital shortly afterward with a baby.

Inspector George Dyer described the woman as a "white female American, about 34 years of age, between 5 feet 5 and 5 feet 7 tall, weighing between 150 and 170 pounds."

Pleads For Baby

He said she was large-busted, clear-skinned and with long blonde hair and gave the general impression of "untidiness."

Kills Herself 33 Hours After Her Husband's Death Sunday

Mrs. Ruth Irene Shealer, 57, committed suicide at 9 o'clock this morning, 33 hours after her husband, Martin C. Shealer, died suddenly at 11:55 o'clock Sunday night following a heart attack.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Mrs. Shealer used a .38 Colt revolver which she fired into her left temple. The bullet came out at her right temple. The suicide took place in the second-floor bathroom at the Shealer home, 25 Steinwehr Ave.

According to Dr. Crist, Mrs. Shealer left a note saying: "Cremate us and put us in the same grave."

18-Year Old Boy, Racing Another Auto, Is Hurlled 68 Feet To Death Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least six persons died in Pennsylvania highway accidents over the weekend.

An 18-year-old Pittsburgh boy was hurled 68 feet to his death early Sunday after his car turned over several times during a race with another auto.

And in Philadelphia, a hit-run driver was overtaken by another motorist and later held in the death of the pedestrian he struck shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

An auto race on McKnight Road on the outskirts of Pittsburgh ended in the death of Ronald S. Hirt McCandless, 27, police were chasing the speeding autos when the crash occurred.

Police said Lloyd W. Hancock Jr., 25, signed a statement that he had been racing with Hirt. Ironically, a tire on Hancock's auto blew out after the fatal accident as he was driving at a moderate speed to the McCandless police station after the crash.

Police said he told them he was traveling at a speed of 90 miles an hour during the race.

In the Philadelphia accident, Harry H. Sidebottom, 57, died in Misericordia Hospital several hours after he was struck by a car police said was driven by Frank Newell, 23.

Newell was held on charges of manslaughter, reckless driving and hit-run. Police said Newell sped away after striking Sidebottom. They said a passing motorist, James Duff, chased Newell and forced his car to the curb several blocks from the scene of the accident.

Truck, Bus Yrash
James Rider, 37, of Clearfield, died early Sunday from injuries suffered in the collision of his truck and an Edwards Motor Transit Co. bus. Two passengers in the truck were hospitalized and four bus passengers suffered minor injuries. Scene of the Saturday crash was Bell's Landing on Rt. 219 near Clearfield.

State police said the truck pulled into the highway from a rural road and the bus driver, Walter M. Spotts, 47, of South Williamsport, was unable to swerve his bus far

Driver Burned To Death After Crash

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—A car plowed into the rear of another auto on the New Jersey Turnpike here yesterday, and both vehicles caught fire.

The driver of the first car, Allen Carl Twyman, 50, of Oak Hill, W.Va., burned to death.

State police said the driver of the second car which struck the first auto, Henry R. Farnkopf, 26, of Keansburg, N.J., escaped injury.

He was pulled from his flaming auto by a passing motorist.
Police said Twyman was employed by Ralph Parsons Construction Co. and had been working on the new Sinclair refinery at Marcus Hook, Pa., lying at 32 Spruce St., Marcus Hook.

STEVENSON TO HAVE TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—Adlai Stevenson's expected bid for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination seems likely to arouse some strong convention opposition from the South.

A summary of views of Southern governors, compiled by The Associated Press from questions directed to them and from their recent public statements, indicates no unanimity of opinion on a candidate to oppose him for the nomination.

Suggestions on this score by Dixie governors willing to express a public view ranged widely. Among those named were Governors Allan Shivers of Texas, Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado and Frank Lausche of Ohio, former Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, former President Truman and enough to avoid the crash.

Mrs. Clara A. Fleming, 75, of St. Louis, was killed Saturday night when she was struck by an automobile crossing Rt. 322 near Cochran. She had been vacationing in the Crawford County community.

Head-on Collision
A head-on collision about midnight Friday night on a mountain road near Wilkes-Barre took the life of a Philadelphia woman and seriously injured her husband and four other people.

Mrs. Mary Ganard, 52, was killed in the Rt. 115 crash. Her husband and the driver of their car, Patrick, 53, were in serious condition in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Russell Adams, 21, and Jerry Gazinski, both of Wilkes-Barre, were the occupants of the other car in the Plains Twp. accident.

Edwin J. Smeeringer, 25, of Hanover, was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding left a township road near New Oxford and crashed into a tree.
State police of the Gettysburg barracks said the victim's brother, Richard, was driving the car. He was not seriously injured.

The Southern governors generally agreed that if he runs, President Eisenhower is likely to have more Southern opposition than in 1952 when he carried Virginia, Florida, Tennessee and Texas.

With one exception, Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina, they said there was little likelihood of a third party movement such as that of 1948.

Have Birthday Dinner
He said he filed a report to his mission board secretary on China's political, political and military situation which later was forwarded to Washington.

"I sent some military information before the Communists arrived," he said, "not much but a little I sent nothing after the Communists arrived, although I took some pictures."

The missionary, his wife and daughter went to the women's home at Kowloon for a birthday dinner and cake.

Mrs. Lovetien, who spent 20 years with her husband in China, left when the Reds took over the mainland and has lived here since.

PRESIDENT ON FISHING TRIP

DENVER, Sept. 18—President Eisenhower goes off to a Rocky Mountain ranch today for at least five more days of trout fishing and another crack at a role he loves—head chef.

The President arranged for an early departure by automobile for Fraser, Colo., about 70 miles northwest on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

High in the Rockies there he will be the guest again of an old friend, Denver investment banker Aksel Nielsen. Eisenhower spent five days at the Nielsen ranch shortly after arriving in Colorado Aug. 14 for a work and play vacation.

Yesterday the President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended services at the Corona Presbyterian Church.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, explained why the President and his wife did not register to vote this fall at Gettysburg, Pa., where their new country home is located. The registration deadline was Saturday.

Snyder said they will be eligible to vote there next year.

Meanwhile they have given up their New York voting residence.

MRS. M. B. WILT EXPIRES TODAY

Mrs. Mary Blanche Wilt, 66, died at her home in Taneytown this morning at 1:30 o'clock. She had been in declining health for the past eight months. She was the widow of the late G. Walter Wilt who preceded her in death 22 years ago.

A daughter of the late Jesse and Cora Lawyer Leister, Mrs. Wilt is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Baumgardner and Mrs. Stanley Kling, both of Taneytown; two grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Norman Reinhold, Taneytown, and one half sister, Mrs. Claude Danton, Baltimore.

The deceased had been an active member of the Trinity Lutheran Church, the Church School, Missionary Society, Mite Society Altar Guild, and had been for many years secretary of the Adult Bible Class.

Funeral services at 2 p.m. Thursday in Trinity Lutheran Church with her pastor, Rev. Stanley Jennings, officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fuss-Priest Home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. The body will remain in Trinity Church on Thursday from 12 noon until time for services.

Market Prices Dip In Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed lower today in early dealings.

There were losses of 1 to 3 points in many major divisions while gains usually held in a fractional range.

Trading was fast at the opening, but the pace soon slowed to a walk. Only a few blocks appeared on the tape. Among them were:

Utilities Service 1,000 shares off 1 at 10 1/2; Republic Steel 1,100 off 3/4 at 13 1/2; Pennsylvania Railroad 1,400 off 1/4 at 27 1/2; and Boeing 1,000 up 1/2.

Among lower stocks were U.S. Steel, General Motors, Philco, American Telephone, Magna Corp., International Paper, Standard Oil (N.J.), Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Pacific Fe Railroad, and Northern Pacific.

Higher were Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, and American Smelting.

NEW YORK EGGS

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA)—Wholesale egg prices were nervous and unsettled today. Receipts 19,052. (Wholesale selling prices based on exchange and other volume sales.)

COURT SPARES ANASTASIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A ruling in a New Jersey federal court which would have revoked the citizenship of Albert Anastasia, five times accused of murder, has been voided by the U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The vote was 2-1.

Anastasia was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $20,000 on June 4 for evasion of income taxes for 1947 and 1948. Sentence was imposed in Camden, N. J., by federal Judge Thomas M. Madden.

The government then sought the annulment of Anastasia's naturalization. The federal court in Camden upheld the government's position and ordered that Anastasia's naturalization be set aside.

The appellate court's decision, written by Judge Hry E. Kalodner, was handed down yesterday. Judge Herbert F. Goodrich agreed with Judge Kalodner. Judge John W. Lord Jr. dissented.

Figures In Argentine Government Change

These three men are among those in Argentina in the position of prominence now that the Peron regime is reported to have fallen. General Felix M. Robles, left, National Security Director, has been given full powers to maintain the security of the civilian population. Gen. Emilio Forcher, center, commander of the Interior Forces, and Gen. Carlos A. Wirth, right, Army Chief of Staff, are two members of a three-man junta named to negotiate with the rebels who engineered the downfall of the Peron regime. (AP Wirephoto)

Hurricane

tended 200 miles in the eastern semicircle.

Skies were clearing rapidly at Richmond and only a drizzle at Norfolk added to the 3.14 inches of rain that fell the past 24 hours. Richmond had 3.83 inches.

North Carolina was hit with heavy rains and most of the damage there appeared to be from high water according to early reports, though a complete picture was being delayed by disrupted communications.

Belhaven, N.C., with a population of 2,500 reported every house damaged by wind and water. Preliminary reports from the North Carolina coastal area showed:

NEW BERN — Four reported dead; about 40 blocks flooded to a depth of three to four feet.

ELIZABETHTOWN—One drowning reported when a dam broke after heavy rains.

WASHINGTON, N.C. — About 38 blocks flooded two to four feet deep.

BELHAVEN — Extensive flooding; every house in this town of 2,500 reported damaged.

MOREHEAD CITY Y — Severe damage from both flooding and high wind.

ATLANTIC BEACH—This oceanfront resort near Morehead City had extensive wind and wave damage.

Manteo — About three feet of water stood in homes and business buildings early today.

Ione, showing many of the stop-and-go characteristics of her sister Connie, which inflicted tremendous damage last month, sped up the North Carolina coast at a 12 to 15 m.p.h. clip yesterday afternoon—then almost stopped completely about 25 miles south of Norfolk.

It took her eye nearly seven hours to reach Norfolk between 4 and 5 a.m. Her arrival was so delayed that hies in Hampton Roads reached only three feet above normal. Her winds gusts no higher than 58 m.p.h. and averaged only 35 to 47 m.p.h.

Only negligible damage was reported in Norfolk, where scores of merchant ships were anchored. A hundred naval vessels huddled in the hurricane anchorage near Tangier Island.

Heavy N. C. Damage

Damage was tremendous in North Carolina, at which Ione threw her 100 m.p.h. Sunday punch earlier.

Four persons died and property losses were counted in the millions.

Netherlands Will Restore U.S. Park

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has accepted an offer of The Netherlands government to restore a park in East Stroudsburg that was damaged by last month's floods.

The offer was made by Dr. J. W. A. Van Hattum, acting council-general of the Netherlands, who said "the magnificent response of the American nation when a few years ago a great part of the Netherlands was overrun by the sea is well remembered."

Leader accepted the invitation yesterday for restoration of the 2 1/2-acre park. He termed the offer "magnanimous" and a tribute to the "friendship existing" between the two nations.

May Improve Aid For Aged, Aging

HARRISBURG (AP)—A detailed, bipartisan program to improve the lot of Pennsylvania's aged and aging was ready for Senate action today after gaining unanimous House approval.

The House voted 204-0 yesterday on a bill to create a special man advisory committee to study the problems of older workers. Activity of the state Labor and Industry Department in the field of the aging worker would be increased tremendously under the proposal.

Three Democrats and three Republicans joined to sponsor the measure.

This winter... GET ALL THE CLEAN HEAT YOU'LL BE PAYING FOR!

Replace that choked-up furnace filter now with a new Glasfloss FIBER GLASS AIR FILTER

- Traps more dust and dirt, yet it lets the heat flow freely.
- You get cleaner, more healthful air; better heat circulation.
- You save wear on your furnace-blower, and save on fuel bills.

Remember! A choked-up filter robs your rooms of heat... overworks your furnace blower... increases fuel bills! Play safe. Check the size of your furnace filter now—and see us for the GLASFLOSS Filter that's right for your furnace.

Standard disposable filter for all modern, forced-air heating systems. Longer, silver, adhesive-treated glass fibers trap more dirt, without hampering airflow.

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 p.m. with the devotional period conducted by the Rev. Harvey M. Light, Hanover.

A panel discussion by the three zonal representatives and the following chairmen of Synodical committees, will be the feature of the afternoon session: Revs. Robert W. Roschy, Social Action, Herbert L. Rice, Churchmen's Brotherhood, and Dr. Roy Lambert, World Service and United Promotion.

The conference will close with a service of commitment in charge of the Rev. Dr. Oliver K. Maurer, of Red Lion.

Leaders Agree On Wage Rate Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—The opposing House floor leaders joined yesterday in sponsoring a bill that would require the state and all political subdivisions to pay the prevailing wage rates under any public works contract.

The bill, sponsored by Reps. Smith (R-Phila.) and Readinger (D-Berks), would be effective Jan. 1, 1956, if approved.

Another new bill reaching the House yesterday calls for creation of a state lottery to pay for a bonus for veterans of the Korean fighting.

The bill was introduced by Reps. Muldowney and Frascella, both Philadelphia Democrats.

Littlestown PRIZE WINNERS NAMED AT NEW STORE OPENING

Over a thousand persons visited the Community Furniture and Appliance Store, S. Queen St., for the "grand formal opening" Friday evening and Saturday. Women visitors received pot holders and measuring spoons and children were presented with balloons. Prizes, given by the owners, Clair J. Redding and Clarence J. Krichen Sr., for the formal opening, were received as follows: first, an end table, Mrs. Ralph L. Snyder, Littlestown R. 2; second, automatic toaster, Norman Miller, Littlestown R. 1; third, table lamp, Paul L. Hollinger, S. Queen St.; fourth, G. E. iron, LeRoy Helwig, Rita Marie Ave.; fifth, electric kitchen clock, Mrs. Blanche Schroll, 31 E. King St.; sixth, electric kitchen clock, Mrs. Evelyn B. Spangler, Patrick Ave.; seventh, gallon of floor wax, Mrs. Samuel E. Renner, M. St.

Members of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who attended the quarterly meeting of the 21st District held on Sunday afternoon in Dover were: Commander Earl Weaver, James Kuhn, Malcolm Harner, Charles Brudinger and Robert L. Snyder. Mrs. Ruth Crouse, Mrs. Madalyn Bloom, Mrs. Ethel Bridinger, Mrs. Martha Kuhn and Helen Jacobs attended from the Ladies' Auxiliary to the local post.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Weaver and sons, Robert and Robin, have returned to their home on Cemetery St., after spending the past several months in Carlsbad, N. M., where Weaver was pitching baseball with the Carlsbad team, in the Class C, Longhorne League. He finished the season with 18 wins and 8 losses.

Charles Badders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Badders, Lumber St., has begun his senior year of studies at Kutztown State Teachers' College. He is doing first semester student teaching in elementary schools of Allentown.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Hawk, W. King St., were Sgt. and Mrs. Leonard Green and children, Susie and Timmy, who have just returned from Okinawa, and who are now stationed at Camp Ritchie.

A four-pound, ready-to-cook-weight, duckling will make three or four servings. Count on buying two of the ducklings if you are having six to eight persons for dinner.

Union Official Gets State Medal

HARRISBURG (AP)—The vice president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union today holds Pennsylvania's medal for meritorious service for union services offered during last month's flood.

Gov. Leader presented the medal yesterday to David Ringold in thanks for the loan of the union's mobile health unit for work in the flood-stricken northeastern Pennsylvania section.

Leader termed the loan an "unselfish contribution made by organized labor to the commonwealth at the time of disaster."

Ringold is director of the northeast department of the ILGWU. The union vice president said members of the organization "are proud to have been in a position to serve the people of Pennsylvania when their need was so great."

Zwingli Church Plans Rally Day

Zwingli Evangelical Reformed Church, East Berlin, will observe Rally Day Sunday, October 9. Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. C. D. Krout, East Berlin, will be the Rally Day speaker.

In the evening the annual Homecoming Service will be held. The Rev. Morgan S. Haney, pastor of the Spinnerstown Charge, will be the speaker. The Rev. Mr. Haney is a former pastor of the East Berlin Charge. The time for the Homecoming Service is 7:30 p.m.

Littlestown OPEN DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

"Operation—Manhunt," a membership campaign, was introduced by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a dinner-meeting Monday evening at Schottle's Hotel.

The Jaycees will be divided into two groups. The "Retrievers" will have as their chairman John F. Feaser Jr.; "The Bloodhounds" will be led by William R. Keefer. At the conclusion of the campaign November 7 the winning team will be dinner guests of the losers.

Monday's meeting was conducted by Marvin F. Breighner, president. The local chapter will pass the gavel to the Shippensburg Jaycees on October 12 instead of September 28 as previously announced, so as not to conflict with the regional meeting in Chambersburg.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the sports and recreation committee, announced that the Jaycees will attend the Gettysburg-Bucknell football game in Hershey, October 1. They will leave at 4:30 p.m. from Schottle's. The chapter will enter a float in the Hanover Halloween parade and the theme of the decorations will be "Come To Church." Paul E. Hiltbrich Jr. and Ralph C. Unger are in charge of the project. Thomas E. Craig, secretary, reported. The next dinner meeting will be held on Monday, October 3, 6:30 p.m., at Schottle's.

Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, local school teacher, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Christ Reformed Church on Sunday evening. Mrs. Baumgardner discussed the topic "Great Truths and Songs and Poetry."

The meeting opened with a song service, for which Joan Blair was piano accompanist. Scripture was read by Shirley J. Gerrick and Rich Bible quiz was conducted by George D. Koons, leader for the evening. Miss Gerrick, president, presided at the business session and she will be leader for the meeting next Sunday at 7 p.m. The program concluded with group song and the Christian Endeavor benediction was repeated in unison.

COURT SPARES ANASTASIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A ruling in a New Jersey federal court which would have revoked the citizenship of Albert Anastasia, five times accused of murder, has been voided by the U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The vote was 2-1.

Anastasia was sentenced to a year in prison and fined $20,000 on June 4 for evasion of income taxes for 1947 and 1948. Sentence was imposed in Camden, N. J., by federal Judge Thomas M. Madden.

The government then sought the annulment of Anastasia's naturalization. The federal court in Camden upheld the government's position and ordered that Anastasia's naturalization be set aside. The appellate court's decision, written by Judge Harry E. Kalodner, was handed down yesterday. Judge Herbert F. Goodrich agreed with Judge Kalodner. Judge John W. Lord Jr. dissented.

Figures In Argentine Government Change

These three men are among those in Argentina in the position of prominence now that the Peron regime is reported to have fallen. General Felix M. Robles, left, National Security Director, has been given full powers to maintain the security of the civilian population. Gen. Emilio Forcher, center, commander of the Interior Forces, and Gen. Carlos A. Wirth, right, Army Chief of Staff, are two members of a three-man junta named to negotiate with the rebels who engineered the downfall of the Peron regime. (AP Wirephoto) tended 200 miles in the eastern semicircle.

Skies were clearing rapidly at Richmond and only a drizzle at Norfolk added to the 3.14 inches of rain that fell the past 24 hours. Richmond had 3.83 inches.

North Carolina was hit with heavy rains and most of the damage there appeared to be from high water according to early reports, though a complete picture was being delayed by disrupted communications.

Belhaven, N.C., with a population of 2,500 reported every house damaged by wind and water.

Preliminary reports from the North Carolina coastal area showed:

NEW BERN — Four reported dead; about 40 blocks flooded to a depth of three to four feet.

ELIZABETHTOWN — One drowning reported when a dam broke after heavy rains.

WASHINGTON, N.C. — About 38 blocks flooded two to four feet deep.

BELHAVEN — Extensive flooding; every house in this town of 2,500 reported damaged.

MOREHEAD CITY — Severe damage from both flooding and high wind.

ATLANTIC BEACH — This oceanfront resort near Morehead City had extensive wind and wave damage.

Manteo — About three feet of water stood in homes and business buildings early today.

Ione, showing many of the stop-and-go characteristics of her sister Connie, which inflicted tremendous damage last month, sped up to the North Carolina coast at a 12 to 15 m.p.h. clip yesterday afternoon—then almost stopped completely about 25 miles south of Norfolk.

It took her eyes nearly seven hours to reach Norfolk between 4 and 5 a.m. Her arrival was so delayed that tides in Hampton Roads reached only three feet above normal. Her winds gusted no higher than 58 m.p.h. and averaged only 35 to 47 m.p.h.

Only negligible damage was reported in Norfolk, where scores of merchant ships were anchored. A hundred naval vessels huddled in the hurricane anchorage near Tangier Island.

Heavy N. C. Damage
Damage was tremendous in North Carolina, at which Ione threw her 100 m.p.h. Sunday punch earlier.

Four persons died and property losses were counted in the millions of dollars.

All the deaths were in New Bern, where the rampaging Trent River swept over 40 city blocks and put business buildings and dwellings under three to four feet of water.

Morehead City, 12 miles from New Bern on the coast, suffered severe damage from the winds and also was inundated.

At Washington on the Pamlico River, two to four feet of water covered 38 blocks, but quickly receded. The town of Belhaven, also on the Pamlico, was under water and reachable only by amphibious vehicles.

Many towns in the path of Ione had not been heard from.

Gov. Luther Hodges said the damage to North Carolina coastal areas "looks worse than the last two hurricanes" — Connie and Diane.

Eight hundred persons were given shelter at Washington, 800 at New Bern, 200 at Wilmington and 200 at Elizabeth City.

Netherlands Will Restore U.S. Park

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has accepted an offer of The Netherlands government to restore a park in East Stroudsburg that was damaged by last month's floods.

The offer was made by Dr. J. W. A. Van Hattum, acting council-general of the Netherlands, who said "the magnificent response of the American nation when a few years ago a great part of the Netherlands was overrun by the sea is well remembered."

Leader accepted the invitation yesterday for restoration of the 2½-acre park. He termed the offer "magnanimous" and a tribute to the "friendship existing" between the two nations.

The House voted 204-0 yesterday on a bill to create a special nine-man advisory committee to study the problems of older workers. Activity of the state Labor and Industry Department in the field of the aging worker would be increased tremendously under the proposal.

Three Democrats and three Republicans joined to sponsor the measure.

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 p.m. with the devotional period conducted by the Rev. Harvey M. Light, Hanover.

A panel discussion by the three zonal representatives and the following chairmen of Synodical committees, will be the feature of the afternoon session: Revs. Robert W. Roschy, Social Action, Herbert L. Rice, Churchmen's Brotherhood, and Dr. Roy Limbert, World Service and United Promotion.

The conference will close with a service of commitment in charge of the Rev. Dr. Oliver K. Maurer, of Red Lion.

Leaders Agree On Wage Rate Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—The opposing House floor leaders joined yesterday in sponsoring a bill that would require the state and all political subdivisions to pay the prevailing wage rates under any public works contract.

The bill, sponsored by Reps. Smith (R—Phila.) and Readinger (D—Berks), would be effective Jan. 1, 1956, if approved.

Another new bill reaching the House yesterday calls for creation of a state lottery to pay for a bonus for veterans of the Korean fighting.

The bill was introduced by Reps. Muldowney and Frascella, both Philadelphia Democrats.

Union Official Gets State Medal

HARRISBURG (AP)—The vice president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union today holds Pennsylvania's medal for meritorious service for union services offered during last month's flood.

Gov. Leader presented the medal yesterday to David Ringold in thanks for the loan of the union's mobile health unit for work in the flood-stricken northeastern Pennsylvania section.

Leader termed the loan an "unselfish contribution made by organized labor to the commonwealth at the time of disaster."

Ringold is director of the north-east department of the ILGWU. The union vice president said members of the organization "are proud to have been in a position to serve the people of Pennsylvania when their need was so great."

OPEN DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

"Operation—Manhunt," a membership campaign, was introduced by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a dinner-meeting Monday evening at Schottle's Hotel.

The Jaycees will be divided into two groups. The "Retrievers" will have as their chairman John F. Peaser Jr.; "The Bloodhounds" will be led by William R. Keefer. At the conclusion of the campaign November 7 the winning team will be dinner guests of the losers.

Monday's meeting was conducted by Marvin F. Breighner, president. The local chapter will pass the gavel to the Shippensburg Jaycees on October 12 instead of September 28 as previously announced, so as not to conflict with the regional meeting in Chambersburg.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the sports and recreation committee, announced that the Jaycees will attend the Gettysburg-Bucknell football game in Hershey, October 1. They will leave at 4:30 p.m. from Schottle's. The chapter will enter a float in the Hanover Halloween parade and the theme of the decorations will be "Come To Church." Paul E. Hiterbrick Jr. and Ralph C. Unger are in charge of the project. Thomas E. Craig, secretary, reported. The next dinner meeting will be held on Monday, October 3, 6:30 p.m., at Schottle's.

50 YEARS AGO

James Gettys Here: James Gettys, grandson of James Gettys, founder of Gettysburg, and daughter, Miss Mary, of Athens, East Tennessee, are visiting Dr. J. R. Dickson and family. Mr. Gettys was born in Tennessee, but maintains a great interest in the town founded by his grandfather. He has visited Gettysburg a number of times previously.

Will be Married Sept. 27: Dr. and Mrs. L. I. Sieber have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Junia, to Edward A. Crouse, of the First National Bank, the ceremony to take place at the bride's home Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 2 o'clock, p.m.

About School Matters: The Gettysburg school board will enforce the truancy law rigidly.

All scholars who have not been vaccinated will not be allowed to attend school. Principa Book has fixed Monday, Oct. 2nd, as the day on which all pupils must show a physician's certificate of vaccination, failing to do so they will be barred from school.

Rev. Downie to Enter New Field: Rev. Seth Russell Downie, who for the past four years has been the pastor of the Huntertown and York Springs Presbyterian churches, has resigned to accept a call from the Presbyterian Church at Bath, Pa., a town of 1,200 inhabitants near Elston. Rev. Downie, during his four years as pastor of the above congregations, has performed a noble work and endeared himself not only to his own congregations but to the people in general who will deeply regret his departure. He will enter his new field about October 1st.

Card of Thanks: Mrs. John M. Minnich wishes to extend heartfelt thanks and assurances of grateful appreciation to neighbors and friends who showed such helpful sympathy and kindness at the death and funeral of her husband.

Death of John M. Minnich: The citizens of Gettysburg were shocked Friday afternoon when the sad intelligence spread over town that John M. Minnich had fallen dead at his home on Baltimore St. at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Minnich had been ill for some time with stomach trouble, but during the past few weeks his health seemed to be improving, and a few hours previous to his death remarked that he felt good. He was out in the rear of his ice cream establishment conversing with one of his hands when he suddenly fell forward. He was carried into the house and Dr. H. L. Diehl hastily summoned, but the spark of life had almost gone out and medical aid proved of no avail, death being due to paralysis.

Mr. Minnich was born at Seven Stars, this county, Aug. 24, 1842, and was consequently 63 years and 21 days old. He was probably one of the best known men in Adams County.

The Hanover Fair: The Hanover Fair held last week was the best ever held at that place. The exhibits were greater and better and the racing was far superior to that of former years. The weather was ideal and the attendance was large. The fair was a success from every standpoint.

Board Broke: real in Cistern: While Mrs. Samuel Lawrence, residing near Mount Rock, was in the act of getting water from a cistern, the boards gave way and she was precipitated to the bottom. She suffered a number of bruises and was almost prostrated when gotten out.

Local Miscellany: At the present time there are eleven prisoners in jail.

The interior of the Western Maryland station is being beautified with a coat of paint.

Miss Amy Stock has moved her millinery establishment into the old post office building.

Many of the business places and private residences of town are decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the V. V. gathering.

Personal: Mark Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Stock, has returned to Mt. St. Mary's Seminary to study

Today's Talk

THE CHEERFUL FRONT

Through our attitude of mind we influence people around us far more than we realize. Keeping a cheerful front is an asset we all should be proud to own. Who doesn't wish to be in the presence of a cheerful person? Such a one lives in a halo of light, and that light keeps spreading.

People work better, and feel better, when the sun is shining. If that same sun shines clear into the heart, life itself is full of sunshine! I once had a friend whom everyone named Sunshine because of her ever cheerful mood. That same cheerful front reached sickrooms, business offices, and wherever someone needed a boost in spirit. It is a wonderful thing to be so magnetic that others feel the warmth of your personality.

In times of trouble and disappointments an atmosphere of good will and courage changes everything. A favorite quotation from the writings of Robert Louis Stevenson is this one: "A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He or she is a radiating focus of goodwill; and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted."

Mark Twain was a world asset. He had plenty of troubles and sorrows himself, but he didn't distribute them. He distributed good cheer, humor, and devoted his life to trying to keep human beings on an even keel. And so he is read today by a great multitude, and we are all the better because he lived and spread good cheer.

The cheerful front is always contagious. The welcomed man is always the one who habitually uplifts all with whom he comes in contact. He is the one, too, who goes about his work without complaint, and, if he is a salesman, he "delivers the goods." People trust and like to have him around.

All great leaders seem to be endowed with a cheerful front, because they know they cannot attract followers in any other way. But there must be sincerity with it all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Our Troubles"

THE CONSTITUTION

These are what it guarantees:
Freedom from all tyrant rule;
Right to work at what we please;
Home and garden, church and school.

Under its protecting care
Unrestrained our children play.
Equal poor and millionaire
Stand on each election day.
Under it may youth achieve,
Where ambition leads to go.
All may pray as they believe,
Justice every one may know.

When we're troubled and perplexed
This thought should be comfort-ing:
In the Constitution's text
Freedom is a cherished thing.

PERON OUSTED;
PEACE CONFAB
IS UNDERWAY

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's new army government began peace talks today with the rebel forces whose revolt ended Juan D. Peron's 10-year dictatorship.

Peron was reported to have escaped arrest and fled the country. The independent newspaper Clarin said the dictatorship was decided upon in all-night session of top military leaders. But Peron was forewarned so that he could leave the presidential palace and flee the country by air, the newspaper said. There was speculation he had gone to Paraguay.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's government radio reported today that peace talks to end the four-day-old revolt which overthrew President Juan Peron had begun.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanca, meanwhile, claimed that leaders of the six-million-member General Federation of Labor (CGT)—which formed the backbone of Peron's popular support—had hoped to repeat history by reinstating the ousted President with a general strike. Such a strike forced his return to power in 1945 after a military clique arrested him.

Anticipation of strike action on Peron's behalf was heightened by a government radio announcement that "there shall be no work" in Buenos Aires today.

But several hours later the state radio announced the junta of generals which took over the government from Peron had begun peace talks with the rebel command and called on the workers to remain calm and resume work.

Recognize Strike
The junta's communique appeared to take note of the reported CGT strike plan with a statement that Hector Hugo di Prieto, CGT secretary general and one of the fallen dictator's closest henchmen, "had been in formed that talks aimed at pacification of the country already have been started with the rebels."

The broadcast did not say where the talks were taking place, when they started or who was representing the rebels. Previously the commander of the rebel fleet, Adm. Isaac Rojas, had been reported planning to enter Buenos Aires harbor aboard the cruiser La Argentina for the negotiations.

The communique termed without foundation an earlier report from the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the oil refineries 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because "hostilities have not ceased."

Fearful Fire Threat
It was the rebels' threat at noon yesterday to fire on the oil installations that apparently induced Peron to quit and the army commander previously loyal to him to propose peace talks.

Peron's resignation was accompanied by that of his Cabinet, among them his minister, Maj. Gen. Pranklin Lucero, who had brought the dictator through the abortive June 16 revolt.

Lucero's last service in office was to announce an impassioned farewell from his fallen chief, saying his "patriotism and love of the people" led him to resign.

In the capital a curfew last night halted jubilant celebrations by Peron's foes shouting "Liberty-Liberty" as they paraded the streets. For the moment the ousted dictator's supporters lay low.

PRESIDENT
FISHES, COOKS

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Glive President Eisenhower a trout rod and let him do some cooking too and he's a real contented man.

Well, he's got the rod and he's been catching fish. And he's also doing a heap of cooking.

The President arrived here yesterday morning from the Denver White House for another five days or so of relaxation at the Rocky Mountain ranch of an old friend, investment banker Aksel Nielsen. This is his second visit here since he came to Colorado for a work-and-play vacation Aug. 14.

An hour and 15 minutes from the time he stepped out of his car at the ranch, he was wading cold St. Louis Creek, casting a dry fly for the wily trout.

Cooks Dinner
He stayed at it for 3½ hours and came away with seven fish, each weighing about a pound. As usual when the President visits here, the stream is well stocked.

He passed up having the trout for dinner and decided on fried chicken instead. The word was that he spent more than two hours in the kitchen with a white apron tied around his waist.

The word also was that the chicken was delicious.

Before going out to the trout stream yesterday, Eisenhower alerted all federal agencies concerned to stand by to provide relief in the wake of any destruction by Hurricane Ione in the East.

est way" to dispose of the property. John D. Teeter, representing Trinity Reformed Church, observed, "If there is a public sale then no one can complain. If the town wants it, it need not be the highest bidder. And the town is in a good position to be the highest bidder, if it wants the property. If council pays an extremely high price, the money just goes to the school board, or out of one of the taxpayer's pockets into another."

Won't Affect Taxes
"If council has to raise taxes a couple of mills to pay for the building, the school board will be receiving that amount of money and can lower its millage proportionately, and so the taxpayer, who has to pay for it all anyway, will in a sense be losing nothing whatsoever."

Teeter said Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, "is naturally interested in what moves in beside it. If we feel that we need to protect our property we will bid as high as we can to secure the school property."

There were some suggestions that the borough might get the property at a bargain rate at public sale. Several observed, "If people knew the town wanted it, and wanted to use it for public purposes, who would want to bid against the town?"

Serve As Trustees
School board members pointed out, "In this we serve as trustees, as it were, for the school system, we must secure the largest amount we can from the sale, otherwise we are shirking our duty. The school board simply cannot give the school away. We have rules and regulations by which we must abide in this matter."

The school board, after passing a resolution that the school "is no longer needed for school purposes," set the date for the public sale, named the secretary of the board as clerk, authorized the president and secretary of the board to secure a licensed auctioneer as required by law, and determined that it will meet in special session at the High St. school at the time of the sale so that it may legally make whatever decisions are required at that time.

Terms of the sale will be 25 per cent of the purchasing bid to be paid at the time of sale and the remainder within 30 days upon transfer of the deed.

Yankees Expect To Capture American League Pennant On Friday Against Boston Club

The Associated Press
Unless Hurricane Ione sends them sprawling, the New York Yankees figure they'll have the American League pennant in hand Friday at Boston.

Yet, it's possible the champion may not be decided until after Sunday's regular-season windup—which would provide an appropriately screwy finish for the screwy race since Casey Stengel was a pup.

All sorts of things can happen between now and Sunday, but basically, here's the situation:

1. Any combination of New York victories and Cleveland defeats totaling five gives the Yankees and Manager Stengel their sixth pennant in seven years.

2. The Indians, with the world on a string just a week ago, must sweep their five remaining games and hope the Yanks lose three of their remaining seven to gain at most a tie for the title.

May Win Wednesday
New York could clinch it as early as tomorrow night. To do it, the Yankees would have to sweep their three games at Washington while Cleveland drops a two-game set at Chicago. Even the confident Yanks don't think it will be over that quick, however. They see themselves hauling in the pennant in either the afternoon or night portion of their twin bill with the Red Sox Friday.

The storm knocked out last night's game between the Yankees and Senators. Could be Ione will wash out the whole three-game series in Washington—and if so, the Yankees may have to return to Washington to play Sunday's "finish" at Boston to play the trio, which loom importantly in the pennant issue.

Stengel, hoping the Washington series comes off on schedule, is aiming for a quick clinch to give his veterans a rest before the World Series opener against Brooklyn a week from tomorrow.

Playing for a swift kill, Stengel sent Whitey Ford (17-7) and Don Larsen (8-2) against Washington in doubleheader.

The Senators, only 6-13 against New York for the season after whipping Cleveland 13-9 and starting the Tribe on a four-game losing streak that dumped them from the lead, will throw Bob Porterfield (10-17) or Pete Ramos (5-9) and Maury McDermott (9-9).

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, forced to win 'em all, will decide on either Early Wynn (16-11) or Herb Score (15-10) against the White Sox's Billy Pierce (14-9) tonight.

Cards Beat Cubs
Only two games were scheduled yesterday. In the National, St. Louis overcame a 5-0 deficit to beat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings. Detroit, riding high after taking three straight from Cleveland, shut out Kansas City 4-0 behind rookie Bud Black's six-hitter.

The Cubs' Ernie Banks, who recently set a record for shortstops with his 40th home run of the season, knocked off another major league record with his fifth grand-slam homer of the year. Only 10 sluggers, including Babe Ruth, ever had four bases-loaded shots in one season before. Banks now has 44 home runs.

CHICAGO — General Manager Frank Lane of the White Sox, involved in a dispute with club vice president Charles Comiskey, said he would leave the White Sox at the end of the year.

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Orioles promoted Jack Dunn III to assistant general manager and said present assistant Art Ehler's contract would not be renewed in November, although he might remain with the club.

BROOKLYN — The Dodgers announced that Walt Alston would manage the club again in 1956, regardless of the World Series outcome.

RACING
NEW YORK — Miss Wessie (83) set the pace to win the Mount Kisco classified handicap at Aqueduct.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — The third of Willie Hartack's four winning mounts was Immac (83.20) in the Atlantic City feature.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Pitching — Bud Black, Tigers, hung up his first major league shut out in his third starting assignment, blanking Athletics on six hits 4-0.

Batting — Ernie Banks, Cubs, walloped his fifth grand-slam home run of season to set a major league record in 6-5 defeat by Cardinals.

JIMMY SLADE BEATS M'BRIDE

NEW YORK (AP)—When Jimmy Slade feels like moving, he's hard to catch. The shifty New York heavyweight was in the mood to move last night and he easily outpointed lumbering Archie McBride of Trenton, N.J., in a television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Outweighed 189 to 180, Jimmy Slade flitted backwards and sideways and often behind the bewildered Jerseyite. Usually, when stalking Archie figured he had caught up with Slade, Jimmy would jab him on the nose or hook him to the jaw or stomach.

Until he tired after the seventh round, Slade's boxing lesson was not too hard to take. But after the seventh he tired and contented himself with loafing and holding. The few fans in the house who had braved a threat of Hurricane Ione then booed Jimmy for his lazy tactics and McBride for his ineptness.

The votes of the officials, all favoring Slade, were: Judge Bill Reicht, 7-2-1; Judge Leo Birnbaum, 6-3-1; and Referee Mark Conn, 5-4-1.

SMASHES 5TH GRAND SLAM

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chicago's Ernie Banks was the new owner of the major league record for grand slam home runs in one season, but the 24-year-old shortstop wasn't celebrating and no one was congratulating him — the Cubs had lost the game.

Banks was just as gloomy as his teammates in the Chicago dressing room last night after Rip Repulski's two-out, two-strike homerun in the 12th inning had given the St. Louis Cardinals the game, 6-5.

Ernie mustered a smile for the only photographer present for a shot of the bat he used to hit grand slammer No. 5 and his 44th round tripper of the season.

The speedy Negro right-hander from Dallas, Tex., couldn't be blamed, though, if he secretly felt elated over the game. Only 10 other players in the game's history — one was Babe Ruth — had clubbed four grand slamers in a season.

UCLA TOPS GRID ELEVEN IN A.P. POLL; NAVY 9TH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA, the preseason pick of the experts, held its place as the nation's No. 1 college football team today in the first regular-season Associated Press poll of the country's sports writers and sportscasters.

The Uclans, who opened their campaign with a clear-cut 21-0 victory over Texas A&M, had 34 of the 68 first-place votes. On the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, and so forth, UCLA piled up 512 points, well ahead of second-place Georgia Tech, which skyrocketed from 10th place in the preseason voting. Tech had 364 points.

The Yellow Jackets defeated strongly rated Miami 14-6 in their debut.

Tech's meteoric climb shoved Oklahoma and Michigan down a notch to third and fourth, respectively, while Maryland retained its fifth spot despite a close call in its 13-12 victory over Missouri.

Gov. Leader Invites NBA For Meeting To Map Code

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Leader today invited the National Boxing Assn. to meet in Harrisburg with a special governmental boxing subcommittee to work out a nationwide boxing code modeled after Pennsylvania's new law.

"What is needed in boxing is a model code embodying the essentials of the sport and the business," Leader said in a speech prepared for delivery at a special committee meeting of the NBA.

"The common denominator (of the model code) has got to be so specific and so apparent that things spoken in the courts of one state will be understandable to the courts and laymen of all the others," he added.

Although Leader did not appear in person before the committee, set up by the NBA to investigate nationwide code possibilities, his remarks were to be delivered by James A. Finnegan, secretary of the commonwealth.

Leader remained in Harrisburg because of the emergency imposed by Hurricane Ione.

The governor noted that the Council of State Governments, at a recent Washington meeting, appointed a subcommittee to work with the NBA on legal language and technicalities of a uniform boxing code.

Harrington Adams, Pennsylvania deputy attorney general, is chairman of the subcommittee.

In extending the invitation, Leader said:

"I want to invite the subcommittee . . . and whatever representatives of the NBA you gentlemen choose to come to Harrisburg and to spend as much time as you will need in drawing up the statute we all want."

The NBA committee was set up last month at the urging of Leader, who called for adoption of a nationwide boxing code at the association's convention in Detroit.

Although fixing no specific date for the suggested Harrisburg meeting, Leader said details for the session would be arranged by James Crowley, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Seek Uniformity

In urging "unity of action," Leader said a fair and reasonable regulation of boxing implies "uniformity of laws."

"We have enough pride in our new code to believe that it is one of the finest," Leader said of Pennsylvania's law, adding:

"And we have enough humility to be convinced that by the time we have lived under the code for a year or two we shall observe shortcomings that will demand further legislative action."

The code was signed into law last month and at the same time Leader lifted a ban on professional boxing which had been in effect since shortly after the Harold Johnson-Julio Mederos fight in Philadelphia last May 6.

The Athletic Commission, after a series of hearings into the Philadelphia bout, said Johnson had been drugged before he entered the ring. The fighter was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

TV Effect Cited

As another reason for adoption of the Pennsylvania code on a nationwide basis, Leader pointed to effects of television on sports.

"And yet," he said, "no legislative or regulatory body has more than riddled the surface of the tremendous effect of television upon sports—and of all sports, most of all boxing."

Therefore, he declared, since big business and "big sport" require regulation by government, "the states themselves must control boxing and television" through a nationwide code.

"Boxing is honest to stay," Leader concluded. "In honest hands, with the kind of direction it deserves, it can give your young men much of courage, of fairness, of self-control, and of moral fibre, and the generation coming up will need these qualities in abundance."

WYANT TERMED BRAIN OF W. VA. FOOTBALL TEAM

By ED YOUNG

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Fearless Freddy Wyant first broke into the West Virginia football lineup as a freshman on a balmy September afternoon in 1952 when something shocking was happening at Morgantown.

Furman, a rank underdog, was brouncing the Mountaineers 22-0 in the final quarter. Coach Art Lewis glumly surveyed his bench. Wyant, a compact lad of 18 of whom so little was expected that his name wasn't even listed in the West Virginia football brochure, surveyed Lewis. Their eyes met.

Lewis motioned Wyant to him. "Kid," he said, "go out there and see what you can do about this mess."

Thus, in the expectation of nothing of consequence, was born the brilliant career of the player sometimes called the winningest quarterback in the country but called preferably by Lewis, "The Brain."

Wyant didn't save the game against Furman. It was beyond salvage. But Freddy pushed the Mountaineers downfield for two quick touchdowns and was busily pushing them toward a third when the gun went off with Furman a 22-14 winner.

Since that afternoon, nobody else has started a game at quarterback for the Mountaineers. Wyant, a passing, faking, running son-of-a-gun, has accounted for more than a mile and a half of yardage for West Virginia.

With Wyant at the helm, the Mountaineers have won 23 football games and lost only 3 in three seasons.

Wyant, as a passer, has completed 132 of 312 passes over this span — a 41 per cent average — for a grand total of 2,043 yards. He has rushed for 625 yards, mostly on the split-T option play at which, Lewis says, "He's the best I've ever seen." He's a master at faking and pichouts.

But that brain!

"If he were any smarter, he'd have my job," Lewis says, mock seriously. "Then, who'd feed the wife and kids?"

Reported As Unknown

Wyant came to Morgantown almost completely unprepared of from a high school at Weston, W. Va., near the preseason training site of the West Virginia team.

In his freshman year he led West Virginia to a 14 record, having a hand in every single touchdown the team scored. The Mountaineers were 8-0 for the 1953 season, when they went to the Sugar Bowl and lost to Georgia Tech

Johnson Wins Wood Memorial Tourney

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Teri Johnson parried the first hole of a sudden death playoff yesterday to win the 18th annual Wood Memorial Golf tournament from Johnny Weltzel of Hershey.

Johnson, of the du Pont Country Club, Wilmington, Del., and Weltzel each shot par 66s during the regular tournament play at the Jeffersonville Golf Club but Weltzel's missed four foot putt cost him the match on the extra hole.

Tied with 68s for third place were George Fazio, Philadelphia, John Serafin, Fox Hills, and John Vasco, Lehigh.

Other leaders were Stan Dudas, Shawnee, 70; Rod Mundy, York, 71; and Henry Williams, Berkelegh, 72.

COACH CLAIMS ROUVIERE IS BEST HALFBACK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The big wheel in Miami's football attack this fall will be a determined, hard-knocking youngster described by his coach as "the greatest halfback in America."

On the shoulders of Whitey Rouviere, a 180-pounder from Buckner, Ill., rests much of Miami's hopes of finishing high among the nation's top ten teams.

Coach Andy Gustafson says Rouviere is a better all-around player than Glenn Davis, the great Army halfback. And nobody is better qualified to choose between them, because Gustafson coached the Davis-Blanchard backfield during Army's golden wartime years.

"Whitey is the same great competitor as Glenn Davis," Gustafson says. "Like Glenn, he plays with complete abandon, giving it everything he's got."

"He's a harder runner than Glenn and as good, if not better, on defense. And Whitey's blocking, in the line or an open field, is something really beautiful to see."

"Glenn had only one thing on him — a little more speed."

Last season, Rouviere was the most valuable back on a Miami team that lost only a 14-13 decision to Auburn, a late-coming powerhouse, and finished 11th in the nation in The Associated Press poll.

"He was our clutch player," Gustafson says. "He stopped our opponents many times when they seemed on the way to sure touchdowns. And when we were on the move and needed that vital three or four yards, Whitey got it for us."

Miami's first important victory last year was a 19-13 decision over Baylor. Rouviere scored the first touchdown, intercepted a pass to set up the second score, and in the closing minutes he saved the game by grabbing a Baylor pass behind the Miami goal.

After Miami's 9-7 win over Maryland, Coach Jim Tatum said "halfback that beat us was that halfback, Rouviere. We just couldn't get started. He broke up everything we tried."

Rouviere intercepted seven passes during the season to tie for the national leadership and he led the Miami team in fumble recoveries.

This year, Miami's attack should be even more potent and if Rouviere, a senior, lives up to expectations the Hurricanes should be one of the country's top five teams, in spite of a schedule that opens with Georgia Tech and includes such formidable opposition as Notre Dame.

Must Pay Share

Sordoni said any reads program enacted should be of a scope sufficient to "meet the needs of the motorists and the requirements of the nation." He said "motorists and our members must pay their fair share," and he demanded, too, that "other beneficiaries of improved highways carry their fair share."

The President's call for a broad highway building program was seconded by Andrew J. Sordoni of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., president of AAA, although Sordoni did not come out for any specific plan.

The AAA head forecast in a prepared keynote speech that highway legislation would have priority when Congress meets in January, but he warned of "pressures from political groups and from private interests, some of which want the roads but do not want to pay for them." He did not identify such groups or interests.

Opening games in the South Penn Football Conference are scheduled Friday evening for six of the eight member schools. Gettysburg enters the conference while Chambersburg has an open date.

League contests will be as follows: Middletown at Carlisle, Mechanicsburg at Hanover, and Hershey at Wayneboro.

Pre-season dopsters figure Carlisle with an almost entire veteran team, as the probable champion with Hanover given the best opportunity to supply the Thundering Herd with the co-championship with Mechanicsburg last year.

In their games last week Middletown crushed York Catholic 25-6 while Carlisle thumped Central Dauphin 40-14. After losing to Central Dauphin 12-0, Mechanicsburg came back to beat Calton College 19-6. Hanover followed up its 33-7 rout of Delaware with a 45-12 victory over Lancaster Catholic. Hershey has lost to York University 18-5 and Palmyra 19-0 while Wayneboro crushed

JIMMY SLADE

BEATS M'BRIDE

NEW YORK (AP)—When Jimmy Slade feels like moving, he's hard to catch. The shifty New York heavyweight was in the mood to move last night and he easily outpointed lumbering Archie McBride of Trenton, N.J., in a television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Outweighed 189 to 180, Jimmy flitted backwards and sideways and often behind the bewildered Jerseyite. Usually, when stalking Archie figured he had caught up with Slade, Jimmy would jab him on the nose or hook him to the jaw or stomach.

Until he tired after the seventh round, Slade's boxing lesson wasn't too hard to take. But after the seventh he tired and contented himself with loafing and holding. The few fans in the house who had braved a threat of Hurricane Ione then booed Jimmy for his lazy tactics and McBride for his ineptness.

The votes of the officials, all favoring Slade, were: Judge Bill Recht, 7-2-1, Judge Leo Birnbaum, 6-3-1, and Referee Mark Conn, 5-4-1.

45 Candidates Seek Posts On Gettysburg Junior High Team; Open September 29

A squad of 45 candidates, including but four regulars from last season, are seeking varsity posts on the Gettysburg Junior High School football team.

Roy Goldsmith, Frank Dearing, George Mitchell and Warren Rudisill are the only holdovers. Fourteen others were members of last year's squad.

Coach Ned Brownley's Braves are scheduled to open their six-game schedule Thursday, September 29, when they meet Delone at McSherrystown at 8 p.m.

Equal members include the following:
Ninth grade — Harvey Bolling, Goldsmith, Terry Crouse, Dearing, Barry Fat, Terry Harmon, Kyle Hatcher, Larry Houser, Ken Kimple, Gary Matland, Joel Riddlemoser, Frank Skidmore, Herb Taylor, Dave Westenberg, Perry Woodson and Robert Zhea.

Eight grade — Tom Evans, Randy Eyer, Bob Furney, Dwight Graham, Bob Grosholtz, George Mitchell, Nicky Nichols, Bill Rentez, Gordon Richardson, Rodney Rudisill, Warren Rudisill, Ed Simpson, James Sneed, Francis Steiner, Roy Swope, Richard Wilson, and Jack Ziegler.

Seventh grade — Robert Cullison, Edwin Baker, Richard Becker, Robert Dean, Richard Dillman, Mark Eckert, Ronald Frew, Ed Gastley, Don Little, Dan March, Bill Swope and James Townsend.

Gov. Leader Invites NBA For Meeting To Map Code

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Leader today invited the National Boxing Assn. to meet in Harrisburg with a special governmental boxing subcommittee to work out a nationwide boxing code modeled after Pennsylvania's new law.

"What is needed in boxing is a model code embodying the essentials of the sport and the business," Leader said in a speech prepared for delivery at a special committee meeting of the NBA.

"The common denominator (of the model code) has got to be so specific and so apparent that things spoken in the courts of one state will be understandable to the courts and laymen of all the others," he added.

Although Leader did not appear in person before the committee, set up by the NBA to investigate nationwide code possibilities, his remarks were to be delivered by James A. Finnegan, secretary of the commonwealth.

Leader remained in Harrisburg because of the emergency imposed by Hurricane Ione.

The governor noted that the Council of State Governments, at a recent Washington meeting, appointed a subcommittee to work with the NBA on legal language and technicalities of a uniform boxing code.

Harrington Adams, Pennsylvania deputy attorney general, is chairman of the subcommittee.

In extending the invitation, Leader said:

"I want to invite the subcommittee . . . and whatever representatives of the NBA you gentlemen choose to come to Harrisburg and to spend as much time as you will need in drawing up the statute we all want."

The NBA committee was set up last month at the urging of Leader, who called for adoption of a nationwide boxing code at the association's convention in Detroit.

Although fixing no specific date for the suggested Harrisburg meeting, Leader said details for the session would be arranged by James Crowley, chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

In urging "unity of action," Leader said a fair and reasonable regulation of boxing implies "uniformity of laws."

"We have enough pride in our new code to believe that it is one of the finest," Leader said of Pennsylvania's law, adding:

"And we have enough humility to be convinced that by the time we have lived under the code for a year or two we shall observe shortcomings, that will demand further legislative action."

The code was signed into law last month and at the same time Leader lifted a ban on professional boxing which had been in effect since shortly after the Harold Johnson-Julio Mederos fight in Philadelphia last May 6.

The Athletic Commission, after a series of hearings into the Philadelphia bout, said Johnson had been drugged before he entered the ring. The fighter was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

TV Effect Cited

As another reason for adoption of the Pennsylvania code on a nationwide basis, Leader pointed to effects of television on sports.

"And yet," he said, "no legislative or regulatory body has more than riddled the surface of the tremendous effect of television upon sports—and of all sports, most of all boxing."

Therefore, he declared, since big business and "big sport" require regulation by government, "the states themselves must control boxing and television" through a nationwide code.

"Boxing is here to stay," Leader concluded. "In honest hands, with the kind of direction it deserves, it can give your young men much of courage, of fairness, of self-control, and of moral fibre, and the generation coming up will need these qualities in abundance."

Wyant, a rank underdog, was trouncing the Mountaineers 22-0 in the final quarter. Coach Art Lewis gleefully surveyed his bench, Wyant, a compact lad of 18 of whom so little was expected that his name wasn't even listed in the West Virginia football brochure, surveyed Lewis. Their eyes met.

Lewis motioned Wyant to him. "Kid," he said, "go out there and see what you can do about this mess."

Thus, in the expectation of nothing of consequence, was born the brilliant career of the player sometimes called the winningest quarterback in the country but called preferably, by Lewis, "The Brain."

Sparked Late Rally

Wyant didn't save the game against Furman. It was beyond salvage. But Freddy pushed the Mountaineers downfield for the quick touchdowns and was busily pushing them toward a third when the gun went off with Furman a 22-14 winner.

Since that afternoon, nobody else has started a game at quarterback for the Mountaineers. Wyant, a passing, faking, running son-of-a-gun, has accounted for more than a mile and a half of yardage for West Virginia.

With Wyant at the helm, the Mountaineers have won 23 football games and lost only 3 in three seasons.

Wyant, as a passer, has completed 132 of 312 passes over this span — a 41 per cent average — for a grand total of 2,943 yards. He has rushed for 623 yards, mostly on the split-T option play at which, Lewis says, "He's the best I've ever seen." He's a master at faking and pichouts.

But that brain!

"If he were any smarter, he'd have my job," Lewis says, mock seriously. "Then, who'd feed the wife and kids?"

Reported As Unknown

Wyant came to Morgantown almost completely unheard of, from a high school at Weston, W. Va., near the preseason training site of the West Virginia team.

In his freshman year he led West Virginia to a 7-2 record, having a hand in every single touchdown the team scored. The Mountaineers were 8-2 for the 1953 season, when they went to the Sugar Bowl and lost to Georgia Tech

Johnson Wins Wood Memorial Tourney

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Terl Johnson parred the first hole of a sudden death playoff yesterday to win the 18th annual Wood Memorial Golf tournament from John Weitzel of Hershey.

Johnson, of the du Pont Country Club, Wilmington, Del., and Weitzel each shot par 66s during the regular tournament play at the Jeffersonville Golf Club but Weitzel's missed four foot putt cost him the match on the extra hole.

Tied with 66s for third place were George Fazio, Philadelphia, John Serafin, Fox Hills, and John Vasco, Lehigh.

Other leaders were Stan Dudas, Shawnee, 70; Rod Mundy, York, 71; and Henry Williams, Berks, 72.

COACH CLAIMS

ROUVIERE IS

BEST HALFBACK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The big wheel in Miami's football attack this fall will be a determined, hard-knocking youngster described by his coach as "the greatest halfback in America."

On the shoulders of Whitey Rouviere, a 180-pounder from Buckner, Ill., rests much of Miami's hopes of finishing high among the nation's top ten teams.

Coach Andy Gustafson says Rouviere is a better all-around player than Glenn Davis, the great Army halfback. And nobody is better qualified to choose between them, because Gustafson coached the Davis-Blanchard backfield during Army's golden wartime years.

"Whitey is the same great competitor as Glenn Davis," Gustafson says. "Like Glenn, he plays with complete abandon, giving it everything he's got."

"He's a harder runner than Glenn and as good, if not better, on defense. And Whitey's blocking, in the line or an open field, is something really beautiful to see."

"Glenn had only one thing on him — a little more speed."

Last season, Rouviere was the most valuable back on a Miami team that lost only a 14-13 decision to Auburn, a late-coming powerhouse, and finished 11th in the nation in The Associated Press poll.

"He was our clutch player," Gustafson says. "He stopped our opponents many times when they seemed on the way to sure touchdowns. And when we were on the move and needed that vital three or four yards, Whitey got it for us."

Miami's first important victory last year was a 19-13 decision over Baylor. Rouviere scored the first touchdown, intercepted a pass to set up the second score, and in the closing minutes he saved the game by grabbing a Baylor pass behind the Miami goal.

After Miami's 9-7 win over Maryland, Coach Jim Tatum said "the guy that beat us was that half back, Rouviere. We just couldn't get started. He broke up everything we tried."

Rouviere intercepted seven passes during the season to tie for the national leadership and he led the Miami team in fumble recoveries.

This year, Miami's attack should be even more potent and if Rouviere, a senior, lives up to expectations the Hurricanes should be one of the country's top five teams, in spite of a schedule that opens with Georgia Tech and includes such formidable opposition as Notre Dame.

Must Pay Share

Sordani said any road program enacted should be of a scope sufficient to "meet the needs of the motorists and the requirements of the nation." He said "motorists and our members must pay their fair share," and he demanded, too, that "other beneficiaries of improved highways carry their fair share of the additional tax load."

In another prepared speech to the convention, Russell E. Singer of Washington, executive vice president of the AAA, said the rate of auto fatalities is only about one third of what it was 20 years ago.

He said the fatality rate in 1935 was 15.9 deaths for each million vehicle miles driven. Now, he said, the rate is running at about 5.7 deaths a million vehicle miles.

Singer said he was presenting these statistics to dispel the "alarmist view" that America "is rapidly committing suicide on wheels."

Heavyweight Champion Is Favored To Stop Moore In Ten Rounds In Title Scrap

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Ione permitting, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will match brute strength and power punches against the finesse, experience and sharp hitting of 38-year-old Archie Moore in a 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium tonight.

If a postponement is necessary, the fight will be held tomorrow, with Thursday the next delay date.

The odds were 3-1 the undefeated Brockton strong boy would make Moore his 49th victim.

It was even money that Moore, stopped four times in his 19-year career of 144 fights (120-15-5), would not come out for the ninth round.

Despite the odds, the poised light heavyweight champion was as confident as ever he would become the oldest man to ascend to the heavyweight throne.

"I never was more sure of winning a fight and I will win this one," he said. "I think it will be by a knockout."

Champion Is Irked

The 31-year-old heavyweight king is just as anxious to get in there with Moore as the veteran is to get his long sought crack at the title. Archie's needling campaign has stirred up the Brockton Blaster and his intimates say he is burning with a desire to crush the cocky challenger as quickly as possible.

Rocky never has been a shining star in his workouts, but for this bout he has looked tremendously impressive. The short-armed, heavy-chinned champ has displayed an assortment of fast, precision punches as well as the old reliable "Suzzy Q"—a looping overhand right to the head.

Moore went through his paces in leisurely fashion, just working on his timing and accuracy. It was the same sort of preparation used by Jersey Joe Walcott, who won the title at the age of 37.

Bucks Two Jinxes

Moore is bucking two jinxes. No reigning light heavyweight champion ever has beaten a heavyweight ruler for the title. Seven have tried. Then, too, 12 previous challengers who attempted to win the title in Yankee Stadium were defeated. This corner strings along with the jinxes, picking Marciano to stop Moore within five rounds.

50 YEARS AGO
James Gettys Here: James Gettys, grandson of James Gettys, founder of Gettysburg, and daughter, Miss Mary, of Athens, East Tennessee, are visiting Dr. J. R. Dickson and family. Mr. Gettys was born in Tennessee, but maintains a great interest in the town founded by his grandfather. He has visited Gettysburg a number of times previously.

Will be Married Sept. 27: Dr. and Mrs. L. I. Sieber have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Junila, to Edward A. Crouse, of the First National Bank, the ceremony to take place at the bride's home Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 2 o'clock, p.m.

About School Matters: The Gettysburg school board will enforce the truancy law rigidly.
All scholars who have not been vaccinated will not be allowed to attend school. Principals Book has fixed Monday, Oct. 2nd, as the day on which all pupils must show a physician's certificate of vaccination, failing to do so they will be barred from school.

Rev. Downie to Enter New Field: Rev. Seth Russell Downie, who for the past four years has been the pastor of the Hunterstown and York Springs Presbyterian churches, has resigned to accept a call from the Presbyterian Church at Bath, Pa., a town of 1,200 inhabitants near Easton, Rev. Downie, during his four years as pastor of the above congregations, has performed a noble work and endeared himself not only to his own congregations but to the people in general who will deeply regret his departure. He will enter his new field about October 1st.

Card of Thanks: Mrs. John M. Minnich wishes to extend heartfelt thanks and assurances of grateful appreciation to neighbors and friends who showed such helpful sympathy and kindness at the death and funeral of her husband.

Death of John M. Minnich: The citizens of Gettysburg were shocked Friday afternoon when the sad intelligence spread over town that John M. Minnich had fallen dead at his home on Baltimore St. at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Minnich had been ill for some time with stomach trouble, but during the past few weeks his health seemed to be improving, and a few hours previous to his death remarked that he felt good. He was out in the rear of his ice cream establishment, conversing with one of his hands when he suddenly fell forward. He was carried into the house and Dr. H. L. Diehl hastily summoned, but the spark of life had almost gone out and medical aid proved of no avail, death being due to paralysis.

Mr. Minnich was born at Seven Stars, this county, Aug. 24, 1842, and was consequently 63 years and 21 days old. He was probably one of the best known men in Adams County.

The Hanover Fair: The Hanover Fair held last week was the best ever held at that place. The exhibits were greater and better and the crowd was far superior to that of former years. The weather was ideal and the attendance was large. The fair was a success from every standpoint.

Board Broken: Ted in Eastern: Mrs. Sam L. Lawrence, residing at Mount Rock, was in the city of Baltimore, Md., on a visit. The morning after her arrival, she was taken ill and died. She was a member of the board of trustees of the Mount Rock school and was a well-known and respected citizen.

Local Miscellany: At the present time there are eleven prisoners in the county jail. The prisoners are: John Smith, charged with larceny; John Doe, charged with assault; and three others charged with various offenses. The prisoners are being held in the jail until their next court appearance.

Today's Talk

THE CHEERFUL FRONT
Through our attitude of mind we influence people around us far more than we realize. Keeping a cheerful front is an asset we all should be proud to own. Who doesn't wish to be in the presence of a cheerful person? Such a one lives in a halo of light, and that light keeps spreading.

People work better, and feel better, when the sun is shining. It is that same sun shines clear into the heart. Life itself is full of sunshine! I once had a friend whom everyone named Sunshine because of her ever cheerful mood. That same cheerful front reached sick rooms, business offices, and wherever someone needed a boost in spirit. It is a wonderful thing to be so magnetic that others feel the warmth of your personality.

In times of trouble and disappointments an atmosphere of good will and courage changes everything. A favorite quotation from the writings of Robert Louis Stevenson is this one: "A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He or she is a radiating focus of goodwill, and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted."

Mark Twain was a world asset. He had plenty of troubles and sorrows himself, but he didn't distribute them. He distributed good cheer, humor, and devoted his life to trying to keep human beings on an even keel. And so he is read today by a great multitude, and we are all the better because he lived and spread good cheer.

The cheerful front is always contagious. The welcomed man is always the one who habitually uplifts all with whom he comes in contact. He is the one, too, who goes about his work without complaint, and if he is a salesman, he "delivers the goods." People trust and like to have him around.

All great leaders seem to be endowed with a cheerful front, because they know they cannot attract followers in any other way. But there must be sincerity with it all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Our Troubles." Protected, 1955, George Mathew Adams Service.

40-HOUR WEEK
IS PAYING OFF
SAYS WARDEN

UNIONTOWN, Pa. — A new policy adopted at Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh—which was badly damaged in a riot two years—is beginning to pay off, says Warden Frank Johnson.

In a speech yesterday at meeting of the Pennsylvania FBI National Academy Associates made up of Pennsylvania law enforcement officials also have graduated from the academy—Johnson said a 40-hour work week had been established for the prisoners.

The warden said that all prisoners physically able are given some sort of job, which is hoped will enable them to make easily readjust themselves to society when they are released. He added that the personal problem of each prisoner is being studied and that 93 per cent of all prisoners will be able to readjust easily after they complete their terms.

PERON OUSTED;
PEACE CONFAB
IS UNDERWAY

BUENOS AIRES — Argentina's new army government began peace talks today with the rebel forces whose revolt ended Juan D. Peron's 10-year dictatorship.

Peron was reported to have escaped arrest and fled the country. The independent newspaper Clarin said the dictator's arrest was decided upon in all-night session of top military leaders. But Peron was forewarned so that he could leave the presidential palace and flee the country by air, the newspaper said. There was speculation he had gone to Paraguay.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — Argentina's government radio reported today that peace talks ended the four-day-old revolt which overthrew President Juan Peron had begun.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanca, meanwhile, claimed that leaders of the six-million-member General Federation of Labor (CGT)—which formed the backbone of Peron's popular support—hoped to repeat history by re-installing the ousted President with a general strike. Such a strike forced his return to power in 1945 after a military clique arrested him.

Anticipation of strike action on Peron's behalf was heightened by a government radio announcement that "there shall be no work" in Buenos Aires today.

But several hours later the state radio announced the junta of generals which took over the government from Peron had begun peace talks with the rebel command and called on the workers to remain calm and resume work.

Recognize Strike
The junta's communique appeared to take note of the reported CGT strike plan with a statement that Hector Hugo di Prieto, CGT secretary general and one of the fallen dictator's closest henchmen, "had been informed that talks aimed at pacification of the country already have been started with the rebels."

The broadcast did not say where the talks were taking place, when they started or who was representing the rebels. Previously the commander of the rebel fleet, Adm. Isaac Rojas, had been reported planning to enter Buenos Aires harbor aboard the cruiser La Argentina for the negotiations.

The communique termed without foundation an earlier report from the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the oil refineries 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because "hostilities have not ceased."

Fearful Fire Threat
It was the rebels' threat at noon yesterday to fire on the oil installations that apparently induced Peron to quit and the army commanders previously loyal to him to propose peace talks.

Peron's resignation was accompanied by that of his Cabinet among them his war minister, Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, who had brought the dictator through the abortive June 16 revolt.

Lucero's last service in office was to announce an impassioned farewell from his fallen chief, saying his "patriotism and love of the people" led him to resign.

In the capital a curfew last night halted jubilant celebrations by Peron's foes shouting "Liberty-Liberty" as they paraded the streets. For the moment the ousted dictator's supporters lay low.

Two litters were added to the truck, in addition to some other necessary equipment. The truck has been painted red and white to conform with the heavier apparatus. It is also equipped with a red warning light and siren.

Miss Maryon Wasilursky, left on Monday to enter nurses' training at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Elections for the Senior Class, S.M.C., and the Mother Seton Club were held at St. Joseph's High School. The following officers were elected: Seniors: John N. Roddy III, president; Lois Rabb, vice president; Mary Edith Bailey, 2nd vice president; Virginia Topper, secretary; and John Firor, treasurer.

Lois Rabb was selected president of the S.M.C. with Barbara Bowlers, Jeanne Sell and Joan Orndorff in the remaining offices.

Officers for the Mother Seton Club are Mary Edith Bailey, Nora Knott, Patricia Little and Loretta Behr.

At the local C.S.M.C. meeting on Wednesday, members decided to spend the year concentrating on aiding the missions in Bolivia. Plans were made for the regional Blue Ridge meeting to be held in Hagerstown on Thursday.

SERVICES FOR DECEASED

HARRISBURG — Delegates to the 126th annual meeting of the East Pennsylvania Eldership of the Churches of God in North America turned their attention today to memorial services for deceased pastors.

The four-day meeting opened last night with an address by the Rev. Harvey Wagner Jr. of Roaring Spring.

Attending the eldership are 80 ministers, 120 adults and 60 youth leaders from 111 churches from Altoona to Philadelphia.

WILL HEAD PMS

PITTSBURGH — Dr. Elmer G. Shelley, 57, an Erie County general practitioner, was named president-elect today of Pennsylvania Medical Society.

The election was by acclamation. His name was the only one submitted in nomination.

PRESIDENT
FISHES, COOKS

FRASER, Colo. — Give President Eisenhower a trout rod and let him do some cooking too and he's a real contented man.

Well, he's got the rod and he's been catching fish. And he's also doing a heap of cooking.

The President arrived here yesterday morning from the Denver White House for another five days or so of relaxation at the Rocky Mountain ranch of an old friend, investment banker Aksel Nielsen. This is his second visit here since he came to Colorado for a work-and-play vacation Aug. 14.

An hour and 15 minutes from the time he stepped out of his car at the ranch, he was wading cold St. Louis Creek, casting a dry fly for the wily trout.

Cooks Dinner
He stayed at it for 3 1/2 hours and came away with seven fish, each weighing about a pound, as usual when the President visits here, the stream is well stocked.

He passed up having the trout for dinner and decided on fried chicken instead. The word was that he spent more than two hours in the kitchen with a white apron tied around his waist.

The word also was that the chicken was delicious.

Before going out to the trout stream yesterday, Eisenhower alerted all federal agencies concerned to stand by to provide relief in the wake of any destruction by Hurricane Ione in the East.

School Board

est way" to dispose of the property. John D. Teeter, representing Trinity Reformed Church, observed, "If there is a public sale then no one can complain. If the town wants it, it need not be the highest bidder. And the town is in a good position to be the highest bidder, if it wants the property. If council pays an extremely high price, the money just goes to the school board, or out of one of the taxpayer's pockets into another."

Won't Affect Taxes
"If council has to raise taxes a couple of mills to pay for the building, the school board will be receiving that amount of money and can lower its millage proportionately, and so the taxpayer, who has to pay for it all anyway, will in a sense be losing nothing whatsoever."

Teeter said Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, "is naturally interested in what moves in beside it. If we feel that we need to protect our property we will bid as high as we can to secure the school property."

There were some suggestions that the borough might get the property at a bargain rate at public sale. Several observed, "If people knew the town wanted it, and wanted to use it for public purposes, who would want to bid against the town?"

Serve As Trustees
School board members pointed out, "In this we serve as trustees, as it were, for the school system, we must secure the largest amount we can from the sale, otherwise we are shirking our duty. The school board simply cannot give the school away. We have rules and regulations by which we must abide in this matter."

The school board, after passing a resolution that the school "is no longer needed for school purposes, set the date for the public sale, named the secretary of the board as clerk, authorized the president and secretary of the board to secure a licensed auctioneer as required by law, and determined that it will meet in special session at the High St. school at the time of the sale so that it may legally make whatever decisions are required at that time. Terms of the sale will be 25 per cent of the purchasing bid to be paid at the time of sale and the remainder within 30 days upon transfer of the deed.

FRANCE WILL REMOVE SULTAN

PARIS — France today officially resolved to remove the Sultan of Morocco and replace him with a three-man regency for an indefinite period of governmental reform.

In a stormy, three-hour meeting the French Cabinet authorized Premier Edgar Faure and his minister for Moroccan and Tunisian affairs, Pierre July, to name the three regents.

This decision was taken when the French nominee, Gen. Mohammed El Khatib Ben Hammou, formally refused a post as regent.

Both Faure and July told newsmen they would make their choice of regents today and include this in detailed instructions to the French resident, General, Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin.

The cabinet's decision to allow Faure and July to pick the regents ended days of debate within the French government itself, and between French and Moroccan leaders, on the choice of the third regent.

Both sides had earlier agreed that two of them would be the former Pasha of Sefrou, Si Bekkai, an independent nationalist, and El Mokri, 108-year-old grand vizier or prime minister of Morocco.

The school board, after passing a resolution that the school "is no longer needed for school purposes, set the date for the public sale, named the secretary of the board as clerk, authorized the president and secretary of the board to secure a licensed auctioneer as required by law, and determined that it will meet in special session at the High St. school at the time of the sale so that it may legally make whatever decisions are required at that time. Terms of the sale will be 25 per cent of the purchasing bid to be paid at the time of sale and the remainder within 30 days upon transfer of the deed.

SETTLEMENT OF UMW-MEDICAL
DISPUTE NEARS

PITTSBURGH — A running dispute between the United Mine Workers and the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania appeared headed for settlement.

In a report by the society's committee on medical economics, accepted yesterday by the policymaking House of Delegates, Dr. Edgar W. Meiser of Lancaster, committee chairman, said a liaison system for handling complaints by both groups has been tentatively agreed upon.

Dr. Meiser said the UMW has withdrawn its requirement for consultation with a specialist selected by its health and welfare fund prior to hospitalization of fund beneficiaries.

The requirement of consultation in certain cases after hospital admission has been retained by the UMW fund. Dr. Meiser said his committee feels this is reasonable and leads to better medical care. Doctors will be able to determine their method of payment, either by fee-for-service or on a salary or retainer basis, Dr. Meiser said.

Erase Disagreements
The liaison system between the UMW fund and the society is expected to iron out disagreements over the listing of doctors to participate in fund work, and alleged "whitewashing" of abuses of the fund by some doctors.

Dr. Russell Roth of Erie urged that the society to act against "promise-all and pay-nothing" insurance companies. He also asked for action against "unprincipled" charlatans who bilk the public and what he termed "socialist schemes of pre-paid, assembly-line medical care."

At a public relations conference last night, G. A. Harshman, editor of the Sharon Herald and president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn., told the doctors they must learn that medicine is "big news."

Harshman praised the creation of publicity codes by various state societies and urged that the society invite "someone to talk on just what makes a newspaper tick" at a future meeting.

Tax Wrangling Continues As Andrews Introduces Bill For State Tax On Federal Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP) — Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) said today the State Supreme Court should be given an opportunity to determine the constitutionality of his proposal for a state tax on the amount a Pennsylvanian pays on his federal income tax return.

"It's constitutional as far as I'm concerned until the Supreme Court says otherwise," he told a newsman.

Andrews made the statement after introducing his measure to the House last night as a means of ending the commonwealth's tax impasse.

Delay Consideration

But there was little likelihood that the measure would be given any consideration until at least next week. Chairman Sarraf (D-Allegheny) of the House Ways and Means Committee said his unit won't meet any more this week because of Hurricane Ione.

Hurricane warnings sent House members back to their homes in droves last night. Legislative leaders in both chambers planned only token sessions today. Only the House will meet tomorrow.

The Andrews bill, virtually identical with that sponsored by Republicans two years ago with no success, listed no tax rate nor effective date.

Figures Later

The Ways and Means Committee, the speaker said, can insert the figures after the commonwealth's revenue needs are finally established by bipartisan agreement.

Pennsylvanians paid $2,900,000,000 in federal income taxes on their 1954 income, Andrews said. On that basis, it would take a tax of 7 or 8 per cent to bring in the 456 millions which Gov. Leader now claims is needed to balance the budget.

Andrews was known to have sought Republican co-sponsorship for his measure without success. One of its prime movers in other years was Rep. Royer (R-Lancaster).

No GOP Co-Author

Andrews speculated that GOP leaders wouldn't allow Royer to join in co-authoring the measure.

In 1953, the then Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside, now a state Superior Court judge, advised former Gov. Fine that Royer's tax-upon-tax plan was unconstitutional.

In another development, Rep. Readinger, House Democratic leader, said Republican and Democratic legislative leaders would meet with Gov. Leader again to mull over for another round of tax compromise conferences.

No Agreement

A session yesterday failed to show any outward signs of agreement on balancing the commonwealth's budget.

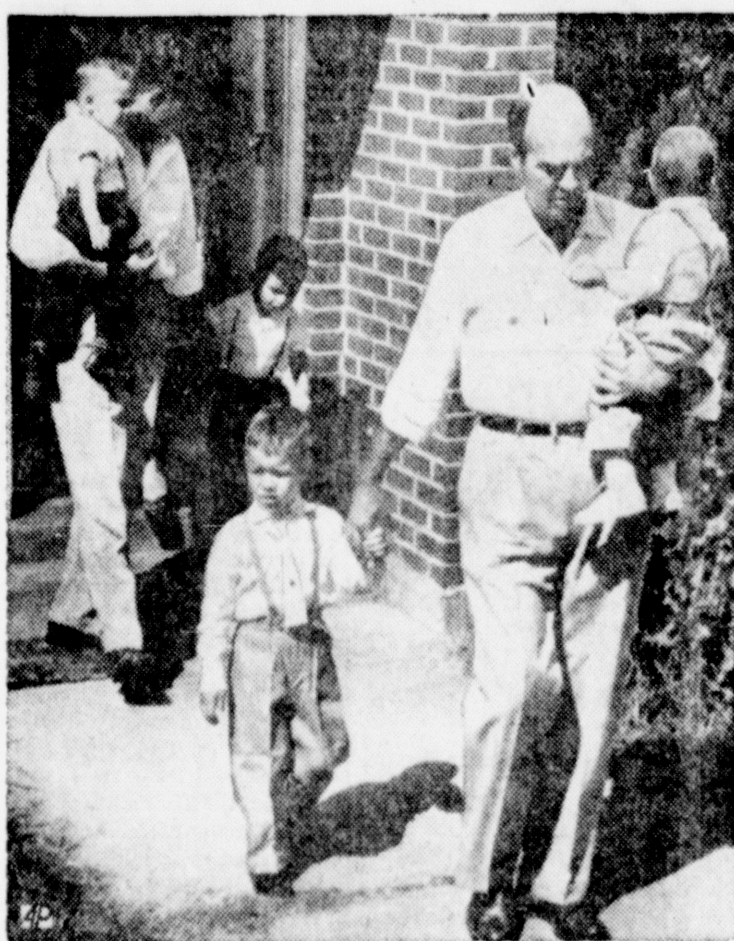

Unless a workable tax program develops by the end of next week, Readinger said, the Legislature will likely take a two-month recess until Dec. 5.

The lawmakers, however, would be subject to recall should an agreement be reached on taxes earlier, Readinger added.

ing Nov. 8 election are the two major reasons for the proposed recess.

In the House, Rep. Smith, House Republican floor leader, said there wouldn't be "a single Republican vote" in that chamber for a 3 per cent sales tax allowing no exemptions.

Although the GOP leadership has come out for a 2 per cent sales tax with the same exemptions as in the law which expired last Aug. 31, Smith said:

"In plain political language you (Democrats) are not off the hook. We're not going to vote for a 3 per cent sales tax... You're going to stand up (for taxes) or two years from now you're not going to stand up at all."

Smith estimated a 3 per cent sales tax without exemptions would raise nearly a billion dollars a biennium.

His remarks were prompted by a statement by Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs and a close confidant of the governor, that "stubborn" Republican senators may force the administration to accept a 3 per cent sales tax.

The Andrews bill calling for a state tax on federal income tax would require annual returns to be filed by April 15, the same day federal returns are due.

Taxes not paid immediately would be subject to 6 per cent penalty. An additional 10 per cent penalty would be levied on persons who "neglect or refuse" to make a return.

In the Senate, the Appropriations Committee last night approved three-House passed appropriation measures.

One of the bills would earmark 50 million dollars as a stopgap to carry on state operations until the tax problems is settled. The other bills would put up 23 million dollars for rentals on state-used buildings constructed by the General State Authority and $1,493,500 from the toll bridge fund to help pay off bridge bonds.

Jersey Woman Dies Of Crash Injuries

HARRISBURG (AP) — Mrs. Clara Walter, 50, Phillipsburg, N.J., died in Harrisburg Hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Sunday on Rt. 22, about 11 miles east of here.

The driver of the car in which Mrs. Walter was a passenger, Mrs. Edith Heller, 50, Easton, was treated for bruises and shock after the crash.

State police identified the driver of the second vehicle as Gaylen Barb, of nearby Highspire. He escaped injury.

Tacony Bridge Sets New Weekend Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Tacony-Palmyra bridge, with a reduced toll of five cents, carried an all-time record of traffic for a September weekend from Friday until Sunday night. Bridge officials said 122,857 vehicles crossed the span, an increase of more than 31 per cent over last year.

The toll has been reduced from 35 cents to a nickel because the only funds needed are for maintenance.

Ex-Salvation Army Chief Dies Monday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Charles T. Mackenzie, a former top-ranking Salvation Army officer, died of a heart attack yesterday at his home in suburban Upper Darby. He was 76.

A native of Pictou, Nova Scotia, he joined the Salvation Army in 1913 and served in India for 44 years before coming here in 1946.

OLD MURDER CASE REVIVED

WOODBURY, N. J. (AP) — Ernest Ingenito, who shot and killed five of his wife's relatives and three others five years ago, goes on trial on Jan. 9.

Judge John B. Wick of Gloucester County Court set the trial date yesterday.

Ingenito was indicted for each of the murders and two of the cases of atrocious assault and battery. He was tried for one of the murders, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in Trenton State Penitentiary.

The trail resulted from a move made by Ingenito through an attorney to make himself eligible for parole 11 years from now.

MORGANZA BILL AWAITS INQUIRY

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Rules Committee will make a detailed study of the proposed legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown before it brings the plan to the floor of the house.

Rep. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said yesterday that the resolution "will not be brought out overnight." He pointed out that the plan was tabled in the Senate from March 15 until Sept. 14, almost six full months.

Readinger told the House that the resolution, calling for creation of an eight-man Senate-House committee, was considered yesterday by the Rules Committee but no decision had been reached on it.

Refuses Reason

Rep. Tompkins (R-Cameron) asked Readinger to explain the delay in the resolution reaching the floor and the floor leader responded that he would give no reason until the committee makes its decision.

The Senate passed the resolution 39-4 last week, 6½ months after its introduction by two Democrats.

WOMAN URGES WOMEN TO ENTER OIL BUSINESS

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—The state of Mississippi sets out today to prove that two white men killed a 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy who allegedly made offensive remarks and whistled at a white woman.

The evidence appeared to be heavily circumstantial—so much so the state doesn't plan to ask the death penalty.

Only two more jurors must be picked before the prosecution unveils its case against silent Roy Bryant, 24, and his balding half-brother, 36-year-old J. W. Milam, who talks readily but seldom smiles.

State and defense attorneys, operating in the shirt-sleeve heat of a crowded courtroom, agreed yesterday on 10 jurors for the all-male, all-white jury.

Through the tedium of juror questioning, the principals in this publicized case sat quietly, frequently abandoning their silent contemplation of the steamy proceedings to tend their 2-year-old sons, whom they held on their laps for a time. Their wives were also in the courtroom.

The two men are charged with killing Emmett Louis Till, who allegedly whistled at Mrs. Bryant after offensive remarks.

The big mystery is what happened between the time Till was taken from the home of his sharecropper uncle, Mrs. Wright, until the time the youth's body was found floating in the muddy Tallahatchie River a few miles to the north.

The state says Bryant and Milam bludgeoned Till, shot him to death and disposed of the body by weighting it and dropping it in the river; Bryant and Milam say they let

HEADS SYNOD GROUP

The Rev. Paul L. Reaser, York, formerly of Gettysburg, Monday was elected to a two-year term as president of the York Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, made up of 20 congregations, at the second annual meeting held in Ad-vent Lutheran Church, York.

Six new clerical members were named. Harvey C. Heiss, York, was re-elected treasurer for two years.

The boy go unharmed.

One source close to the case said the state has no witnesses to actual events. Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham said he would not ask the death penalty "since a substantial part of the state's evidence is circumstantial."

Principal state's witness apparently is Wright, 64-year-old uncle who said three men took his nephew away under protest at 2:30 a.m. Aug. 28.

The body was found three days later.

Tired of the same old ladylike job? Go into the oil business, girls, advises Edna Hurry, newly elected president of the Desk and Derrick Clubs of North America.

There are at present 9,000 members of this unique organization, composed of women working in the oil industry. During their recent convention in New York, 900 of the girls represented clubs in 30 states and three Canadian provinces.

Jobs held by these women range from presidents of oil companies to secretaries and file clerks.

"We have a lot of girls who are engineers, geologists and chemists working in the oil business," says Miss Hurry, whose own job is in the personnel department of a New Jersey oil company. "Even those who have desk jobs find there's never a dull moment. Things just seem to happen in the oil industry."

Many Women Officers
The new secretary of the organization, Elizabeth Van Kuyk of New York, is assistant manager of the pipeline right-of-way division of a big oil company. The second vice president, Irma Cline of Wichita Falls, Tex., is a partner in an oil company and works for a firm of lawyers serving the oil business. Other officers are Lydia Bakka of San Francisco, first vice president, and Esther Welch of Amarillo, Tex., treasurer.

These girls are serious about their business. Their meetings are devoted to study of methods and operations and discussions of how to do their jobs better.

Seek Measure To Fix "Low Speeds"

HARRISBURG (AP)—A New bill was before the Senate today to empower the state highways secretary and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to fix minimum low speeds for drivers.

Sponsored by Sen. Wahley (R-Somerset), the measure would permit the setting of minimum speeds when officials deemed lower speeds would "consistently impede the normal and reasonable movement of traffic."

Violation of the low speed limits would mean a fine of $10 and costs.

Another Senate bill introduced last night would put in the law books the specific right of taxing authorities to impose real estate transfer taxes on either the buyer or the seller. Sponsor of the measure is Sen. Wagner (R-Schuylkill).

STATE APPEARS OUT OF DANGER OF HURRICANE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania, bracing itself for two days against an expected onslaught from Hurricane Ione, appeared out of serious danger today and civil defense headquarters lifted a 48-hour alert to all its workers.

With the hurricane expected to pass off the Delaware and South Jersey coasts this afternoon, the Weather Bureau in Philadelphia no longer warned of strong winds but predicted a steady rain that might cause some stream flooding in the Philadelphia area.

In Harrisburg, Dr. Richard Gerstle, state director of civil defense, lifted the alert at 6 a. m., stating that winds "no longer posed a serious threat" to Pennsylvania. He cautioned local authorities, however, to maintain a vigil against the possible overflow of rivers and streams.

Expected Downpour Falls
Drizzle and light rain fell throughout eastern Pennsylvania in the morning instead of the expected heavy downpour. The Weather Bureau, which had predicted gusts of up to 50 miles an hour for Philadelphia, in a forecast issued last night, toned the prediction to "rather windy" this morning in a 6:30 a. m. forecast.

By 4 a. m., civil defense headquarters had recommended a reduction to a skeleton force of the civil defense crews that had been put on the alert Sunday.

hurricane heading for central Pennsylvania, raising fears that more devastating floods would occur in northeastern Pennsylvania, already ravaged by swollen rivers and streams.

Just six weeks ago hurricanes Connie and Diane caused 100 deaths and millions of dollars of damage with flood waters. But today's path appeared to remove the possibility of tremendous flood damage.

State civil defense headquarters in Harrisburg let stand an order warning all motorists to stay off the highways except for essential travel.

Late yesterday, Gov. Leader said, following a meeting with his emergency disaster committee, that Ione could result "in an even worse disaster" than last month's storm and flood. If it hit the commonwealth full force.

After the meeting, Leader said plans were made to cope with any wind or rain damage. He said he had asked the state Department of Public Instruction to alert all school superintendents to take the necessary steps to safeguard their pupils.

Remove Fair Tents
At Allentown, the Allentown Fair completed plans for taking down the tents, turning off electric power and discontinuing the use of bottled gas for cooking purposes when the storm moved in.

Precautionary measures were being taken by officials in Tamaqua, where the greatest amount of rainfall was dumped by Diane a month ago.

Other communities, including Easton and Wilkes-Barre had their police on 24-hour call and other agencies organized to move into action when needed.

About 40 aircraft, half of them military, were flown from threatened sections of the East Coast.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Carlisle police said a car operated by Carl L. Clinton, 24, Aspers R. 1, pulled away from a parking space in Carlisle Saturday and collided with a vehicle operated by William E. Sampson, 19, Carlisle. Damage was minor.

Tax Wrangling Continues As Andrews Introduces Bill For State Tax On Federal Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP) — Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) said today the State Supreme Court should be given an opportunity to determine the constitutionality of his proposal for a state tax on the amount a Pennsylvanian pays on his federal income tax return.

"It's constitutional as far as I'm concerned until the Supreme Court says otherwise," he told a newsman.

Andrews made the statement after introducing his measure to the House last night as a means of ending the commonwealth's tax impasse.

Delay Consideration
But there was little likelihood that the measure would be given any consideration until at least next week. Chairman Sarraf (D-Allegheny; of the House Ways and Means Committee said his unit won't meet any more this week because of Hurricane Ione.

Hurricane warnings sent House members back to their homes in droves last night. Legislative leaders in both chambers planned only token sessions today. Only the House will meet tomorrow.

The Andrews bill, virtually identical with that sponsored by Republicans two years ago with no success, listed no tax rate nor effective date.

Figures Later
The Ways and Means Committee, the speaker said, can insert the figures after the commonwealth's revenue needs are finally established by bipartisan agreement. Pennsylvanians paid $2,900,000 in federal income taxes on their 1954 income, Andrews said. On that basis, it would take a tax of 7 or 8 per cent to bring in the 456 millions which Gov. Leader now claims is needed to balance the budget.

Andrews was known to have sought Republican co-sponsorship for his measure without success. One of its prime movers in other years was Rep. Royer (R-Lancaster).

No GOP Co-Author
Andrews speculated that GOP leaders wouldn't allow Royer to join in co-authoring the measure. In 1953, the then Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside, now a state Superior Court judge, advised former Gov. Fine that Royer's tax-upon-tax plan was unconstitutional.

In another development, Rep. Readinger, House Democratic leader, said Republican and Democratic legislative leaders would meet with Gov. Leader again tomorrow for another round of tax compromise conferences.

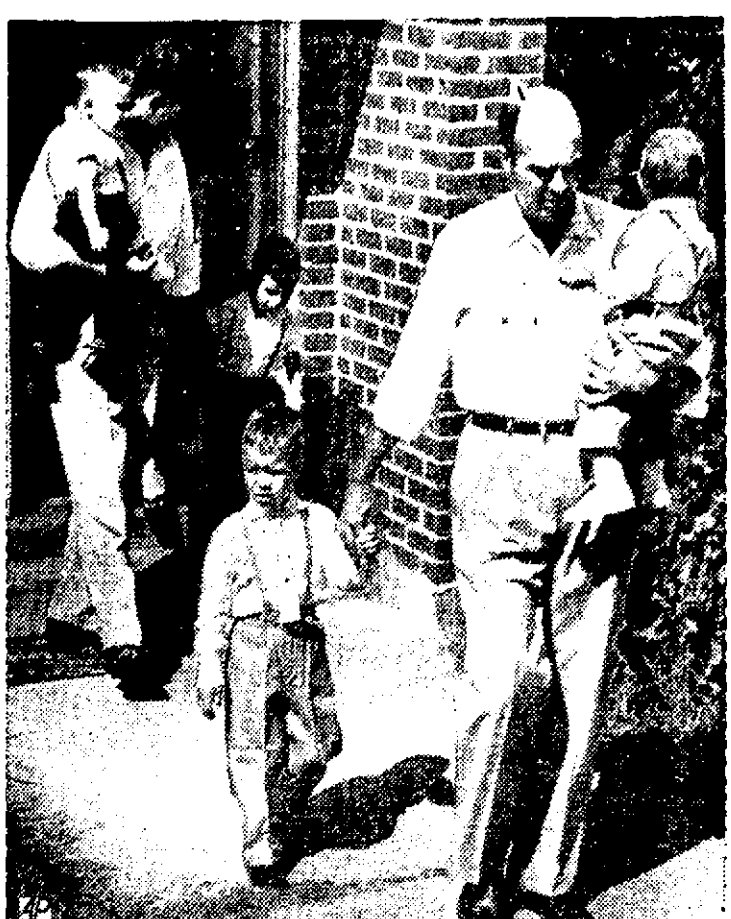

No Agreement
A session yesterday failed to show any outward signs of agreement on balancing the commonwealth's budget.

Unless a workable tax program develops by the end of next week, Readinger said, the Legislature will likely take a two-month recess until Dec. 5.

The lawmakers, however, would be subject to recall should an agreement be reached on taxes earlier, Readinger added.

ing Nov. 8 election are the two major reasons for the proposed recess.

In the House, Rep. Smith, House Republican floor leader, said there wouldn't be "a single Republican vote" in that chamber for a 3 per cent sales tax allowing no exemptions.

Although the GOP leadership has come out for a 2 per cent sales tax with the same exemptions as in the law which expired last Aug. 31, Smith said:

"In plain political language you (Democrats) are not off the hook. We're not going to vote for a 3 per cent sales tax. You're going to stand up (for taxes) or two years from now you're not going to stand up at all."

Smith estimated a 3 per cent sales tax without exemptions would raise nearly a billion dollars a biennium.

His remarks were prompted by a statement by Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs and a close confidant of the governor, that "stubborn" Republican senators may force the administration to accept a 3 per cent sales tax.

The Andrews bill calling for a state tax on federal income tax would require annual returns to be filed by April 15, the same day federal returns are due.

Taxes not paid immediately would be subject to 6 per cent penalty. An additional 10 per cent penalty would be levied on persons who "neglect or refuse" to make a return.

In the Senate, the Appropriations Committee last night approve three-House passed appropriation measures.

One of the bills would earmark 50 million dollars as a stopgap to carry on state operations until the tax problems is settled. The other bills would put up 23 million dollars for rentals on state-used buildings constructed by the General State Authority and $1,493,500 from the toll bridge fund to help pay off bridge bonds.

Jersey Woman Dies Of Crash Injuries

HARRISBURG (AP) — Mrs. Clara Walter, 50, Phillipsburg, N.J., died in Harrisburg Hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Sunday on Rt. 22, about 11 miles east of here.

The driver of the car in which Mrs. Walter was a passenger, Mrs. Edith Heller, 59, Easton, was treated for bruises and shock after the crash.

State police identified the driver of the second vehicle as Gaylen Barb, of nearby Highspire. He escaped injury.

Tacony Bridge Sets New Weekend Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Tacony-Palmyra bridge, with a reduced toll of five cents, carried an all-time record of traffic for a September weekend from Friday until Sunday night. Bridge officials said 122,857 vehicles crossed the span, an increase of more than 31 per cent over last year.

The toll has been reduced from 35 cents to a nickel because the only funds needed are for maintenance.

Ex-Salvation Army Chief Dies Monday

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Commissioner Charles T. Mackenzie, a former top-ranking Salvation Army officer, died of a heart attack yesterday at his home in suburban Upper Darby. He was 76.

A native of Picou, Nova Scotia, he joined the Salvation Army in 1883 and served in India for 44 years before coming here in 1946.

OLD MURDER CASE REVIVED

WOODBURY, N. J. (AP)—Ernest Ingenito, who shot and killed five of his wife's relatives and three others five years ago, goes on trial on Jan. 9.

Judge John B. Wick of Gloucester County Court set the trial date yesterday.

Ingenito was indicted for each of the murders and two of the cases of atrocious assault and battery. He was tried for one of the murders, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in Trenton State Penitentiary.

The trial resulted from a move made by Ingenito through an attorney to make himself eligible for parole 11 years from now.

MORGANZA BILL AWAITS INQUIRY

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Rules Committee will make a detailed study of the proposed legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown before it makes a decision on whether to bring the plan to the floor of the house.

Rep. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said yesterday that the resolution "will not be brought out overnight." He pointed out that the plan was tabled in the Senate from March 15 until Sept. 14, almost six full months.

Readinger told the House that the resolution, calling for creation of an eight-man Senate-House committee, was considered yesterday by the Rules Committee but no decision had been reached on it.

Refuses Reason
Rep. Tompkins (R—Cameron) asked Readinger to explain the delay in the resolution reaching the floor and the floor leader replied that he would give no reason until the committee makes its decision. The Senate passed the resolution 39-4 last week, 6½ months after its introduction by two Democrats.

Small wedges of stuffed celery are pleasant to come upon in a salad. Try stuffing the celery with a mixture of cream cheese and minced anchovies; then cut the stuffed stalks into bite-size and add them to mixed greens that have been tossed with French dressing.

Schwartzes Held In $5,000 Bond Each In Heiress' Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Magistrate Elias Myers late yesterday ordered Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz held in $5,000 bail each for grand jury action on charges they performed an attempted abortion which killed Food Fair Stores heiress Doris Jean Ostreicher.

Myers made the ruling after agreeing that Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash had presented sufficient evidence to warrant the charges.

Key witness among the 21 persons who testified were two pathologists. They stated that the 22-year-old Mrs. Ostreicher had died "within a few minutes" after injection of a vegetable substance into her uterine cavity.

Dr. Theodore B. Krouse, a pathologist for the medical examiner's office, and Dr. Frank Glauzier said the substance eventually reached the lungs and caused death by suffocation.

Mother At Death Bed
Dash contended the commonwealth established "there had been a prearrangement" between the Schwartzes and Mrs. Gertrude Silver, the dead girl's mother, to perform the abortion. Mrs. Silver, now undergoing psychiatric care at a mental institution, is charged with being an accessory before the fact of abortion resulting in death.

The red-haired Mrs. Ostreicher, who eloped June 24 with Miami Beach motorcycle patrolman Earl Ostreicher, died in the Schwartz apartment Aug. 24. Her mother was with her.

The Schwartz' counsel William A. Gray said the magistrate to free his clients on the ground the commonwealth had failed to prove anything.

Dash said the prearrangement he referred to was proved by introduction of evidence of a telephone call from the Silver home to the Schwartz apartment on the night of the girl's death.

Gray said he "would assume the accuracy of the doctors" that Mrs. Ostreicher died of an abortion shortly after the foreign materials were injected.

But, he added:
"Who committed that abortion? I don't know and the commonwealth doesn't know. They have to prove that either Mr. or Mrs. Schwartz actually committed such a crime. I say there is not enough circumstantial evidence to hold either one."

BUS LINE SEEKS FARE INCREASES

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal by the Williamsport Bus Co. to increase cash fares from 10 to 13 cents, effective Oct. 16, was before the Public Utility Commission today.

In a new schedule filed with the commission yesterday, the bus line also seeks to sell school tickets at 20 for $1.25 instead of one dollar.

Serving the Williamsport area, the firm plans to sell "convenience" tokens at five for 65 cents, the same price as the cash fare for each.

The company said it expects to realize about $20,000 more annual revenue from the proposed boost but added it still expects to operate at a $5,000 deficit.

A loss of $20,050 was recorded last year and operations to May 31 this year resulted in a $22,400 deficit, the firm said.

Classes generally steady, stock cattle moderately active and unevenly fully steady to as much as 50c higher, but general trade only steady. Kicking Machine Kicked From Shelter

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—On the highway between New Bern and Morehead City there is a gadget that has won considerable fame around North Carolina, and even among out-of-staters who travel Highway 70 to the coast.

It's Tom Haywood's famed kicking machine. Folks who stop at Haywood's service station-store are invited to step out to a shelter on the grounds, and there — if they are so minded — kick themselves to their heart's content.

Shoes on a wheel propelled by the self-kicker provide the kicks. The kicking machine was given something of a kick itself yesterday — by Hurricane Ione. The hurricane had kicked the kicking machine plumb out of the shelter.

Runaway Elephant In Woodland Fastness

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Now that Mecklenburg County is learning to live with Vicki, its wayward and unobtrusive elephant, the animal may be calming down.

Veteran elephant man Louie Reed, called in on the hunt from Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus, says if he can spot her in her woodland fastness six miles from downtown Charlotte he thinks he can coax her home by talking to her "like a baby."

Reed figures Vicki was made skittish by amateur elephant hunters since her disappearance 10 days ago from her amusement park home. Yesterday she would have nothing to do with the bait scattered along woodland trails — white bread and grain, mixed with molasses. Usually she loves it.

Owner Jack Partlow says he's confident his 6-year-old Indian elephant will be caught.

Two U. S. Women

the daily train from Communist Canton. As they crossed the 200-foot freedom bridge to British territory, they were met by U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward, Hong Kong Police Superintendent, L. Gordon and American and British Red Cross officials.

"I have a lot to thank the Lord for," Miss Middleton said.

"It's so good to be on free soil," said Miss Perkins.

Charged With Sabotage

Wearing summer dresses, both women appeared in good physical and mental condition although tired. Asked how she felt, Miss Perkins replied: "For a woman of 63, I think I look pretty well."

The women were arrested separately on sabotage charges at Samkong village, near Linhsien, south China, in February 1951. They were kept in separate rooms in the same buildings — in Samkong, then in Kungong and in Canton prison — and finally met on Sept. 11 when they were called before a Red council in Canton.

They were told then they would be deported.

Miss Perkins said the first time she was called up for questioning, the Communists "told me if I would tell on others, they would treat me lightly, but if not 'we may shoot you or treat you very cruelly.'"

"We Are Missionaries"
"I replied," she continued, "You may shoot me tomorrow but I will still tell the truth."

"We are no spies, we are missionaries," she declared, tears welling in her eyes.

Miss Middleton said she had "signed some papers which I believe were confessions in 1952 or 1953." She said she "thought things from my point of view — that I was a Christian — was sorry if I had said anything contrary to their belief."

"I probably had done things

Littlestown CAMPERS TELL OF CAMP LIFE

The young people of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church who attended Camp Michaux this summer presented a special service on Sunday evening in the church social hall. Parents and friends were in attendance. There was Scripture reading by Rev. Porter W. Seiwel; Gloria Burgoon gave a camper's prayer and a hymn was sung with Barbara Swam as the accompanist.

The various phases of junior camp life were discussed by Janice Evans, Marilyn Miller, Linda Frock, Edward Geiman II, Thomas Stavelly, Terry Arbogast, Donald Arbogast Jr., Richard Seiwel and Bernard

Schwartzes Held In $5,000 Bond Each In Heiress' Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Magistrate Elias Myers last yesterday ordered Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz held in $5,000 bail each for grand jury action on charges they performed an attempted abortion which killed Food Fair Stores heiress Doris Jean Ostreicher.

Myers made the ruling after agreeing that Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash had presented sufficient evidence to warrant the charges.

Key witness among the 21 persons who testified were two pathologists. They stated that the 22-year-old Mrs. Ostreicher had died "within several minutes" after injection of a vegetable substance into her uterine cavity.

Dr. Theodore B. Krouse, a pathologist for the medical examiner's office, and Dr. Frank Glauzer said the substance eventually reached the lungs and caused death by suffocation.

Mother At Death Bed

Dash contended the commonwealth established "there had been a prearrangement" between the Schwartzes and Mrs. Gertrude Silver, the dead girl's mother, to perform the abortion. Mrs. Silver, now undergoing psychiatric care at a mental institution, is charged with being an accessory before the fact of abortion resulting in death.

The red-haired Mrs. Ostreicher, who eloped June 24 with Miami Beach motorcycle patrolman Earl Ostreicher, died in the Schwartz apartment Aug. 24. Her mother was with her.

The Schwartzes' counsel William A. Gray asked the magistrate to free his clients on the ground the commonwealth had failed to prove anything.

Dash said the prearrangement he referred to was proved by introduction of evidence of a telephone call from the Silver home to the Schwartz apartment on the night of the girl's death.

Gray said he "would assume the accuracy of the doctors" that Mrs. Ostreicher died of an abortion shortly after the foreign materials were injected.

But, he added: "Who committed that abortion? I don't know and the commonwealth doesn't know. They have to prove that either Mr. or Mrs. Schwartz actually committed such a crime. I say there is not enough circumstantial evidence to hold either one."

BUS LINE SEEKS FARE INCREASES

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal by the Williamsport Bus Co. to increase cash fares from 10 to 13 cents, effective Oct. 16, was before the Public Utility Commission today.

In a new schedule filed with the commission yesterday, the bus line also seeks to sell school tickets at 20 for $1.25 instead of one dollar.

Serving the Williamsport area, the firm plans to sell "convenience" tokens at five for 65 cents, the same price as the cash fare for each.

The company said it expects to realize about $20,000 more annual revenue from the proposed boost but added it still expects to operate at a $5,000 deficit.

A loss of $20,650 was recorded last year and operations to May 31 this year resulted in a $22,400 deficit, the firm said.

Kicking Machine Kicked From Shelter

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—On the highway between New Bern and Morehead City there is a gadget that has won considerable fame around North Carolina, and even among out-of-staters who travel Highway 70 to the coast.

It's Tom Haywood's famed kicking machine.

Folks who stop at Haywood's service station-store are invited to step out to a shelter on the grounds, and there—if they are so minded—kick themselves to their heart's content.

Shoes on a wheel propelled by the self-kicker provide the kicks. The kicking machine was given something of a kick itself yesterday—by Hurricane Ione. The hurricane had kicked the kicking machine plumb out of the shelter.

Runaway Elephant In Woodland Fastness

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Now that Mecklenburg County is learning to live with Vicki, its wayward and obnoxious elephant, the animal may be calming down.

Veteran elephant man Louie Reed, called in on the hunt from Ringling Bros and Barnum and Bailey Circus, says if he can spot her in her woodland fastness six miles from downtown Charlotte he thinks he can coax her home by talking to her "like a baby."

Reed figures Vicki was made skittish by amateur elephant hunters since her disappearance 10 days ago from her amusement park home. Yesterday she would have nothing to do with the bait scattered along woodland trails—white bread and grain, mixed with molasses. Usually she loves it.

Owner Jack Parlow says he's confident his 6-year-old Indian elephant will be caught.

WADE PREDICTS BILL APPROVAL FOR NEW BRIDGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chairman Wade (R-Cumberland) called a meeting of the Senate Highways Committee today and predicted new approval of a plan to build a new bridge across the Delaware River connecting Northeast Philadelphia and New Jersey.

The bill had been reported out for a floor vote once before but went back to committee July 25 due mainly to objections from Sen. Watkins (R-Delaware).

Watkins dropped his objections last night however with introduction of a resolution calling on the Legislature to urge the Delaware River Port Authority to give "serious consideration" to building a bridge across the Delaware at Chester.

Replaces Ferry

The Delaware County senator has contended that too little consideration has been given to relieving traffic conditions in his area by construction of a bridge to replace the Chester ferry.

The resolution, which went to Wade's Highways Committee, calls for an engineering survey and traffic study the results of which would be submitted to the 1957 Legislature.

Wade said in advance of his committee meeting that the new bridge bill for Northeast Philadelphia would be amended to delete a clause giving the Port Authority power to demolish the present Tacony bridge, now owned by Gloucester County, N.J.

Jammed Traffic

It was jammed traffic conditions at rush hour at the Tacony-Palmyra saps that led to introduction of the bill to build a new bridge. Automobile traffic is delayed for lengthy periods there due to river traffic going through the draw-bridge.

Sentiment crystallized here, however, around the idea that the Tacony bridge not be torn down at all—even after the new replacement bridge was completed. Watkins told a newsman he favored retaining the old bridge and dropping tolls once the replacement bridge is finished.

Complicating the matter further is the fact that tolls on the Tacony Bridge were reduced from 25 to five cents only last week. The probability is that the replacement bridge would have no such low toll.

Fire Discovered After Fire Drill

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Holy Trinity Catholic school yesterday held a fire drill, showing off for three city fire inspectors.

The students left the building and assembled outside. A kitchen helper sprinted out and whispered, "Fire," to the principal, Sister Verena.

The inspectors rushed inside and put out a fire back of the automatic dishwasher. "First time I ever had a formal appointment with a fire," said Inspector F. F. Dunaway.

The Pennsylvania Dutch eat dessert at every meal—and sometimes more than one. So would you if you tried Schwenkfelder Saffron Cake as made by Mrs. Homer S. Kreibel of Hereford. Topped with a fragrant cinnamon crumb crust, it's made with all of things, mashed potatoes. "Schwenkfelder" is unexpectedly easy to make, too. Mrs. Kreibel shares the recipe for the first time in the October American Home. It's typical of the decidedly different food ideas—and home ideas—in this issue. Only 25¢ at your newsstand.

Two Major Parties Launch Long Campaign For Control Of White House, Congress

Editor's Note — This is the first of a series on what is taking place along the national political front where both Republican and Democratic national headquarters already have plunged deep into the fight for control of the White House and Congress in the 1956 elections.

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—A full 13 months ahead of the 1956 elections, Republicans and Democrats are mobilizing for the great battle for control of the White House and Congress.

Not in recent political history has there been such an early surge of activity along the national political front. One party worker commented:

"A short presidential campaign in 1956? Don't you believe it. The campaign already is under way as far as we're concerned. This is going to be one of the longest campaigns we've ever had."

The business of choosing a candidate and waging a barnstorming campaign is months away—but the struggle between the parties already has the politicians maneuvering their troops in the field.

L. Richard Guyly, publicity chief for the Republican National Committee, and Sam Brightman, who occupies a similar post in the Democratic national headquarters, are men who disagree on many things. But they agree on this point: the fight between the parties is developing far faster than it did in the last presidential election.

Four years ago, the early political skirmish was pretty much confined to candidates jousting among themselves for their party's nomination—and these contests didn't develop to any great degree until the late winter and early spring of 1952. Once the candidates were nominated—Dwight Eisenhower by the Republicans and Adlai Stevenson by the Democrats—then the parties turned their guns full force against each other. But now both parties are starting early to establish issues, and their national headquarters are pushing programs to organize precinct workers who will get out the vote.

The Democrats are stepping up their attacks on Eisenhower and his administration, bearing down on such issues as farm prices, public-versus-private power, and what the Democrats say is Republican favoritism toward big business.

The Republicans are leaning heavily on the "peace and prosperity" slogan and Eisenhower's personal popularity which even the Democrats acknowledge privately is at a high level.

The Republicans already have held a "political school" for the 48 GOP state chairmen, discussing issues and techniques for getting out the vote in the '56 election. These state chairmen are arranging similar meetings in their home states for county leaders, and these meetings will be carried on down to the precinct level.

On Sept. 29, more than 30,000 Republican women will be nation polling voters on how they will vote and what they consider to be the big issues in the campaign. They plan to call at all the homes in one precinct of each county in the United States.

"We think we know what the major issues will be," Guyly said, "but the poll will give us a good chance to find out what the people think about the issues—and what will influence their vote."

The Democrats also plan to take a voter poll of their own, and they will match the Republicans' "political school" with a meeting of national and state leaders to

The man in charge of this meeting will be Niel Stabler, Michigan state chairman, who is credited with setting up a grass-roots organization which gave the Democrats a string of victories last November in Michigan.

UNITED STATES READY TO BLOCK SEAT FOR CHINA

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—As U.N. delegates gathered for the opening today of the 10th General Assembly, the United States marshaled support to knock down any fresh Soviet bid to seat Communist China.

The Red China Issue, which comes up each year, was expected to get another test as soon as the acting president, J. M. H. A. Luns of the Netherlands, rapped the gavel to launch the new session.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. expressed confidence the United States had lined up enough votes to keep Red China out. Lodge prepared a brief resolution to shelve the issue for 1955, the maneuver which worked at the last session.

Diplomats anticipated that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, here for his first Assembly since 1946, would make the annual bid to unseat the Chinese Nationalists. There was speculation, however, that the Russians might leave the initiative up to some other power sympathetic to the Peiping regime.

See Test Of Strength
An East-West test of strength was also seen shaping up in the hot contest between the U.S.-backed Philippines and Soviet-supported Poland for a Security Council seat.

With a number of European members reported favoring another Soviet bloc member on the council, the United States faced a stiff fight.

Molotov was all smiles as he told reporters yesterday he expects the current session to yield positive results.

Lodge also appeared optimistic that the session would be a good one. He conferred last night with the 20-nation Latin-American bloc on China representation, the Security Council election and other issues.

The Assembly will swing into its general policy debate as soon as it clears aside organizational matters—election of a president, seven committee chairmen and assembly vice president — and adopts an agenda. The presidential election was expected to be routine, with Chile's Jose Maza so far unopposed.
